Fast Action By Two Men Saves House

by PATTY KOROM

Without the quick reaction of a H.O.D. Disposal employee and an area resident, a house fire on Jan. 8 at 26512 Stonegate in Antioch could have been a lot worse.

According to fire department spokesman, Wayne Parthun, two men, Ed Cotter and Ross Barrett are to be credited with quick thinking when a fire was discovered at the house.

The fire started in the basement of the single story frame structure and was apparently caused by a natural gas space heater that malfunctioned.

The heater ignited a nearby wooden clothes closet and spread up the basement stairs.

According to Parthun, Cotter noticed the smoke and went to the rear of the home to check for anyone who might be in the house.

After gaining entry, Cotter found a dog and a cat which Cotter removed from the house safely.

He then went to his truck to radio his dispatcher at HOD who in turn called the Antioch Fire Dept.

Upon returning to the house, Cotter and Ross Barrett gained entry to the front of the house to search for people.

The fire department responded to the fire call at 8:05 a.m.

The owner of the house, listed as Miss Keating, told officials that she had left for work before 6:00 a.m. and noticed nothing unusual.

Keating's nephew said that he had driven by the house at 6:30 a.m. and did not notice anything unusual either.

"Credit has to go to Cotter and Barrett for their quick actions in this fire," Parthun said.

Pancakes At St. Peters

Antioch Boy Scout Troop 190 will sponsor a pancake breakfast on Jan. 26 at St. Peters Church in Antioch.

Proceeds from the breakfast will be used to help defray the cost of Troop 190's newly acquired camping equipment.

According to troop spokesman, Don Reifschneider, the troop hopes to raise between $800 and $1,000 at the pancake breakfast.

Pancakes will be served between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. and tickets can be purchased at the door. Ticket prices are: adults, $3; children, $2; children three and under are free.

Society To Meet

The Lakes Region Historical Society will hold their next meeting on Jan. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Brook Room at the State Bank of Antioch.

Members of the group are committed to restoring the historical past of the lakes region and are currently working to restore the old school house in Antioch.

According to member Ken Smouse, the first floor of the building is near completion, and plans are being made to begin restoration of the second floor.

Anyone interested in learning more about the area's history and the Lakes Region Historical Society can attend the next meeting.

Winter Fun

Exhilarating is the best description for a ride down It's Snow Fun Inc.'s snow tubing trail. Novice tuber, Jason Korom of Waukegan enjoys an afternoon on the trails. It's Snow Fun Inc. is located north of Antioch on Wilmet Rd., one half mile north of Rte. 173—photo by Patty Korom.

Name Don Skidmore As Lions President

by PATTY KOROM

The Antioch Lions Club kicked off its 50th anniversary year during the installation of new officers at the Patio Restaurant in Antioch Monday night.

In a message to fellow Lions, Wolf commended the Lions for their support during the past year and praised them for the club's accomplishments in 1986.

The Lions raised over $25,000 in 1986 from just three fundraising events. The club also collected over 1,000 pairs of eyeglasses and 15 hearing aids to benefit adults and children in underprivileged countries.

Skidmore is looking forward to serving as the Lions president during the 50th anniversary year. According to Skidmore, "we are still looking at various projects for 1987. I think we will take on a larger project this year to commemorate the Antioch Lions' 50th anniversary."

Other officers named during the installation ceremonies are Kenneth Graesser, first vice president; Bruce Adams, second vice president; Lou Santini, third vice president; Charles Cermak, secretary; Dr. John Boarini, treasurer; William Cardiff, lion tamer; and Ted Axton, taitwister.

Two year directors are Ernie Schyra and Dennis Willett and the one year directors are Mike Simmer and William Yucus.

PM&L Theater Group Seeks Renovation Aid

by PATTY KOROM

If only these walls could talk. An appropriate thought during one's first visit to the PM&L Theatre in Antioch.

Built in about 1912, the theatre has provided entertainment for many generations of Antioch residents.

The original theatre was known as The Crystal Movie House and was part of the Ratnar Theatre circuit.

According to Ken Smouse of the Lakes Region Historical Society, the Ratnar Theatre group was a stock company that toured between about seven theatres in the area.

The movies shown at the Crystal were accompanied by a piano played by the theater owner. An interesting story was told to Smouse concerning the piano player.

It seems that the favorite way for some of Antioch's young boys to spend a Saturday afternoon was to attend the theater and provoke the theater owner while he was playing the piano.

The owner, who used a cane to walk with, would try to hit the boys with the cane and play the piano at the same time.

Another interesting detail concerning the Crystal was the way in which sound movies were provided to theater patrons.

The owner of the Crystal owned more than one theatre and had only one sound camera. In order to provide sound the owner would pack up this huge camera and haul it from theater to theater.

The movies were scheduled on a rotating basis with plays so that the camera was needed in only one theater at any time.

In the 1940's, the Crystal was sold and became the Lakes Theater. The plays that had been provided by the Ratnar group were gone and the theater was to show only movies.

Beating, Stabbing Of 2 Under Investigation

According to a newspaper source, there may be drugs connected to the beating and stabbing of a Lake Villa and an Antioch man at 4:24 a.m., on Thursday, Jan. 8, on Wilmot Rd., near Rte. 173 in Spring Grove.

Passersby reported that blood was pouring from a car the was off the road and the car showed no signs of having been struck by another vehicle.

According to the McHenry County Sheriff's Dept. Robert E. Baker, 30, Lake Villa remains in serious to fair condition at Northern Illinois Medical Center at press time.

The other victim, Randy Knackstedt, 29, Antioch, was transferred to Victory Memorial Hospital on Thursday, treated and released from there on Saturday.

According to the sheriff's department, the two men told police that they were coming from a bar in Fox Lake, traveling north on Wilmot Rd. when they were run off the road by another car and then several persons from that car beat and stabbed them.

The incident is still under investigation by the sheriff's department.

AARP'S All American Band Goes On The Road

by PATTY KOROM

Antioch's Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) probably has the only kitchen band in Antioch that is willing to go on the road.

The 33-member AARP All Star Kitchen Band has entertained various groups throughout Lake County during the past year, including Cedar Village in Lake Villa; Winchester House in Libertyville; the Antioch Historical Society and the senior citizens at Antioch's Senior Center.

According to band director and AARP president, Sam Lombardo, the band is very versatile. Along with the usual kitchen band instruments, there are barbershop quartets and octets, soloists, and a yodeler.

"We really have some talented people participating in the band, it's great therapy for everyone involved," he said.

The kitchen band is only a small part of the AARP's many activities. The organization has sponsored various food drives to help support local food programs and donated funds to Antioch's rescue squad.

Many of AARP's members have donated memorabilia to the Antioch Historical Society and the group has donated funds to support the society as well.

The philosophy of the organization was summed up rather nicely by Lombardo. He said, "the best therapy for seniors is to be involved. I always tell people to stay away from the rocking chairs and the television. You have to be with people and talk with people."

Lombardo's philosophy has worked well for many seniors. The oldest AARP member, Marie Beem, is 86 and she is an active member of the AARP All Star Kitchen Band.

The AARP has met at various locations over the years, but with the construction of the Senior Center, they now have a permanent meeting place.

Along with President Lombardo, Dolly Spiering serves as first vice president, and Urban Reef is second vice president. The organization's secretary is Clara Haling and Robert Allgire serves as treasurer.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of AARP Chapter 387 can call Sam Lombardo at (312) 395-4068.

Lakes Carpet Provides Area's Biggest Selection

by PATTY KOROM

Imagine walking into a showroom, pushing 10 buttons on a computer, and seeing your dream kitchen appear in color before your very eyes.

When Lakes Co. Carpet and Tile opens its new location on Rte. 83, you will be able to do just that.

Lakes will feature the Mannington Computer Center and offer an expanded line of carpets and vinyl floorcovering. The new store will also feature an extensive selection of parquet floor covering.

Carpet will be purchased from 12 mills and three mills will be used to supply other floor coverings.

Although floor covering is Lake's major emphasis, it also carries one of the biggest selections of wallcoverings in Lake County.

Gene Voight, owner of the company, has been in business in the Antioch area for the past 15 years.

Its first location was on the corner of Rte.

59 and 173. After four years at that location, Voight moved to Hickory Commons, located on Rte. 173 across from Lyon's Ford.

After 10 years at that location, his business was literally bursting at the seams, so he decided to build a bigger and better building.

The new building will have 4,300 sq. ft. of warehouse and showroom space combined. After two moves, Voight decided to build with room to grow.

"This is it," he said. "I built the building large enough so that we don't ever have to move again. I couldn't stand the thought of moving one more time."

The showroom will be designed to provide the best possible lighting, enabling customers to view the true colors of the carpet, vinyl, and parquet samples.

Hard work and "a wife who is simply wonderful" is what Voight attributes his success to. His basic philosophy, he says, is to "work very hard to back up what we sell. We want to provide the best service to our people."

Antioch's Coral Apartments Names Bushing Manager

Coral Apartments, Antioch South Plaza, and Dupre Enterprises have appointed David L. Bushing as general manager of their companies.

An Antioch resident for over 40 years, his started in 1952 with the A&P Grocery chain. Working his way into management, he went into new store development and management with the M. Loeb Limited, Co. of Elk Grove and Evanston.

Bushing was associated with the Foremost Liquor chain in management in store development from 1966 through 1986.

He is past president and still an active member of the Antioch Lions Club, the board of directors of the Northern Illinois Conversation Club, the Antioch Masonic Lodge, Ducks Unlimited, Muskies, Inc., and the Old Style Muskie Team.

Bushing said, "Our community is growing, many new and exciting projects are under way and many more are being planned.

"I'm proud to be a part of them and the Dupre Enterprise family."

Dupre Enterprises are headquartered in Denton, Texas. The Antioch office will be located at Coral Apartments, 764 Main St., Suite 101, Antioch.

During 1961-62, the theatre was to change once again.

The P.M. and L. theatre group began their first season as Antioch's community theatre.

Over the years, the theatre group leased the building on Main St. and last year, the decision was made to buy it.

According to P.M. and L. President, Aileen Biel, "we have only been able to do maintenance on the building the past. Now that we own it we are beginning to restore the building."

Restoration to the theatre has been slow, and unless you're involved with the theatre, it's hard to understand the importance of some of the work.

A new cat walk over the stage area will allow the group to use lighting in a different way and, according to Biel, "we could even do Peter Pan if we wanted to."

Although the cat walk is the most exciting addition so far in the renovation process, the safety of the patrons is by far the group's main concern.

The stairs leading to the buildings lower level have been straightened and reinforced. The lower level area of the building is used to provide patrons with refreshments during performance intermissions.

The group has also renovated the restroom area and hopes to complete a handicap accessible restroom area in the near future.

Although these improvements aren't cosmetic, they are important and have to be done before any moves are made to restore the theatre to its original decor.

One project that the group would like to undertake is the recovering of the theatre's seats. The seats, obviously worn with age, are the original seats.

"The renovation of the theatre is important to Antioch," according to play director, Mickey Mandel, "there has been a lot of support from many businesses and residents."

The cost to see a P.M. and L. production is extremely low at $4.50 per ticket. There are even special prices for senior citizens. The theatre has over 800 season ticket holders.

To date, the only funds used to renovate the theatre are play proceeds, and some from donations made by local service groups and businesses. Mandel stressed that there are many hours of volunteer work involved with the building's renovation.

The P.M. and L.'s upcoming play "Angel Street" will begin on Feb. 6 and is directed by Mandel.

The play has been billed as a spine chilling murder mystery and promises to provide a fun filled evening.

The P.M. and L. group is always on the lookout for new talent. According to Mandel, "you don't have to be a resident of Antioch to participate, and you don't have to be a member of the theatre either. Just come and try out for a production."

Donations can be made to the P.M. and L.'s Building and Restoration Fund, P.O. Box 23, Antioch 60002.

Sequoits Need More Wins

Antioch's boys basketball team will be hoping home cooking turns close calls into victories this weekend.

Antioch, after a 42-41 heartbreaker at Fenton, hosts Zion-Benton and Warren Jan. 16 and Jan. 17, respectively.

For Antioch, coach Don Zeman's team is looking for some much-needed victories, as the Sequoits are 2-11 overall.

"We need to keep our sites on the first division. We're only two or three games out Zeman said that at first glance, Warren, led by Brian Jarrell, would be the tougher of the two opponents.

Part of Antioch's problem, Zeman said, is the team's losing ways.

Schedule Achievers' Forum

The College of Lake County Southlake Center is sponsoring an Achiever's Forum on Saturday, Feb. 7 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The forum, entitled "Go For Bigger Results in 1987," will be held at the Hotel Moraine, 700 N. Sheridan Rd. in Highwood.

Elaine Koch, president of Success Planning Associates, a consulting firm located in Chicago, will be the facilitator for the forum.

The registration fee is $85 and includes lunch. Enrollment is limited to 25. Registration for the Achiever's Forum (CON 101-001) will be taken until Jan. 21. Call (312) 433-7884 for more information.

Protect Credit

Consumers spend more than $80 billion each year on interest and other credit-related charges. But there are some ways an individual can reduce his interest expenses, according to J. Kenneth Rosko, a financial planner and registered representative of FSC Securities Corp., (Member NASD, SIPC). He offered the following tips:

—Don't borrow unless it's absolutely necessary.
—If you must borrow, look for inexpensive sources of credit, such as parents or family, a whole life insurance policy, or a credit union.

—Avoid credit life and accident and health insurance sold as part of a loan package.
—Avoid borrowing from finance companies and retailers. These creditors usually charge rates in excess of 20 percent, and sometimes over 30 percent.

How much should one "spend" on credit? Rosko says that, in general, consumer debt should not exceed 15 percent of one's income after taxes and housing expenses.

One way to protect one's credit rating is to first make sure the information in one's file is correct, says Rosko.

"Individual credit files, containing detailed information about one's credit history, are maintained by literally thousands of credit reporting bureaus across the country. Under the Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act, a consumer has the right to know what is in the file," he said.

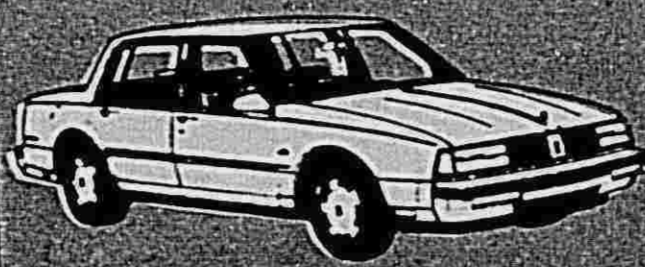

To obtain a copy of one's credit file, contact the credit bureau in your area and ask them the procedure for either getting the file by mail or for making an office visit to inspect it. Be sure to ask if there's a fee.

On examining one's file and finding something believed to be in error, one has the right to dispute it, but it must be in writing. Credit bureaus are required to re-investigate and correct errors. If not satisfied with the results of the re-investigation, one may submit a statement of 100 words or less explaining why the report is believed to be inaccurate. This statement must appear in one's credit file.

Rosko suggests that credit files be checked annually.

Cast 95-Member Chorus In 'Moods Musical'

An exciting extravaganza of great song hits will be presented by Gerry Traxler's Choral Dynamics on Saturday, Jan. 17 and Sunday, Jan. 18 at Libertyville High School.

The 95-member mixed chorus will entertain with "Moods Musical" in a Blue Note Cabaret setting for the 18th annual winter musicals.

Show times are 8 p.m. at the high school auditorium on Park Ave., Libertyville. The show opens with "We've Got a Show For You" and follows with a variety of choral numbers, solo and specialty numbers under the direction of Traxler who started the non-profit organization 18 years ago.

Favorite choral numbers include "Solitude," "The Nearness of You," "Lullaby of Birdland," "I Got Plenty of Nutting" and "Didn't We." The ladies will burst forth with "Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree," reminiscent of the popular World War II era number, with updated words.

Two specialty numbers, "Flight of the Bumble Bee" and "Used Car Lot" will be presented by ensembles.

Accompaniment for the numbers is on piano and organ with a combo providing background for several numbers. Some numbers have been choreographed by youth of the group.

As in the past a patriotic number will end the show, this selection being "America the Beautiful."

Tickets in advance are $5 for adults and $3 for students under 12. At the door tickets are $6 and $4. Tickets may be purchased from chorus members or cooperating organization members. The show is sponsored in cooperation with the Libertyville Women's Club and Gurnee Lions Club.

Opera To Feature Ragtime

Entertainer Max Morath will appear at the Woodstock Opera House on Sunday, Feb. 1. The popular pianist-singer will present "Living a Ragtime Life," a musical glance at an earlier America, blending music, humor, and satire into a bright and affectionate look at another era.

Morath will take the Opera House audience on a rollicking musical tour from the Gay Nineties to the Roaring Twenties, with many stops along the way—stops that reveal the fads and foibles of the time.

The songs and piano solos in "Living a Ragtime Life" range as wide as the contents of Morath's many record albums, from ragtime to show tunes, from novelty songs to the blues.

In this one-man show ("with a cast of hundreds") Morath is aided and abetted by a sassy old Edison phonograph, and by the words, music and spirit of such immortals as Scott Joplin, Irving Berlin, George M. Cohan, Bert Williams, May Irwin, and, of course, a grand piano!

Morath has played to happy audiences and critical acclaim in hundreds of cities throughout the United States and Canada. Said Walter Kerr of the New York Times, "Sheer delight! You'll find Max Morath a delectable companion."

Correction

Henry's Formalwear of Lakehurst will be providing formal attire for the Wedding Expo '87 bridal show on Sunday, Jan. 18 at Gurnee Holiday Inn. It was incorrectly reported that another concern would be involved. Henry's is managed by Michael Wynn. The error is regretted.

Countdown Until Expo '87 Fashion Show

Wedding Expo '87 is almost here and those wishing to attend should contact Debbie's Floral, Mundelein, (312)949-4454 for reservations that can be picked up at the door of the Holiday Inn, Gurnee, on Sunday, Jan. 18, the day the bridal show takes place there.

At Wedding Expo '87, designer styles will be present, not only in the brides' and attendants' gowns, but also in the tuxes shown by Henry's Formalwear of Lakehurst.

Henry's, located right in Lakehurst Mall, will be featuring tuxedos designed by Pierre Cardin, Bill Blass, Robert Stock, some styles from the Robert Wagner Collection and others from After Six.

According to Michael Wynn, manager of Henry's, the traditional black tux is still the most popular one, both in the regular tux style and tails.

Winter white tuxedos are also in demand and many weddings feature the groom and his groomsmen all in white with the ties and cummerbunds matching the bridal attendants' gowns.

"Antique ivory" is a special color that will be seen in male formalwear during upcoming weddings," added Wynn.

The wedding show will be sponsored by Debbie's and Lakeland Newspapers. There will be two bridal fashion shows at 1 p.m. and another at 2:15 p.m.

Bridal styles will come from Milady's Bridal, Bannockburn.

Starting at 1 p.m. there will also be a fashion show featuring casual and resort wear, shown around the Holiday Inn's pool while a special brunch is being served. The resort wear will be from the Hawaiian Shop of Evanston.

Although both style shows are free, special reservation for the $12 per person brunch itself must be made by calling (312)336-6300.

There will be booths where any information on every phase of planning a wedding will be available.

Prizes, such as luxury cruises and vacations to the Caribbean will be given away during Expo, as well as free airline tickets.

Perspective brides and grooms, members of their wedding parties, as well as family members are invited to attend Wedding Expo '87 to ensure the perfect planning of the perfect wedding.

Schedule Jazz Festival

The Rockford Jazz Festival, one of the largest of its kind in the midwest, will be held Friday through Sunday, Jan. 16-18, at the Clock Tower Resort, 7801 E. State St., in Rockford.

The festival will feature more than 85 individual musicians and 20 different jazz bands from all over the country in the three-day jazz extravaganza.

Highlighting the roster of jazz musicians are jazz greats, Charley Ventura, Slide Hampton with the Northern Illinois University Jazz Band, Wild Bill Davison, Bud Freeman, Bobby Haggart, and Eddy Higgins. Also on hand will be Dave Remington, Chuck Hedges, John Bany and Johnie Faren, plus a wide variety of local jazz musicians and bands.

The resort has designed a jazz package for those jazz buffs who would like to spend an entire fun-filled weekend enjoying the best jazz music around. For $275 per couple, the jazz weekend includes a deluxe room, admission to all jazz sessions, Saturday night dinner (gratuity included) with featured jazz stars, plus Sunday morning brunch at Figs Cafe' or Bellamys. Admission to the Time Museum, and a bottle of private label Clock Tower wine are also included.

For those jazz enthusiasts not staying at the resort, admission is $10 for each of four sessions (Friday night, Saturday, Saturday night, and Sunday). To purchase tickets, make reservations or inquire about the second annual Rockford Jazz Festival, call (815) 398-6000.

Home Economists Set Meeting

The Greater Chicago Home Economists in Homemaking, a branch of the American Home Economics Assn., will meet at 9:45 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 17, at Lincoln Center, 935 Maple Ave., Downers Grove. Following a brief business meeting, home economist Jean Lloyd, who is charge of the culinary program at Burhop's Seafood, will demonstrate ways to prepare fresh fish. All professional home economists, members of AHEA, are eligible to join. Guests are welcome. For further information, contact chairman Gail Perr at (312)963-7624.

To Host Special Olympic Games

The sixth annual Illinois Special Olympics Winter Games will be held Jan. 28, 29 and 30. The winter games will be hosted by the City of Galena, Chestnut Resort, Eagle Ridge Inn and Resort at the Galena Territory, and the Five Flags Skating Center in Dubuque, Iowa.

The Illinois Winter Games are very special because of the hundreds of JoDavies County volunteers. The volunteers are adults, students, medical personnel, business executives and merchants. Each year they offer time, love and talent to help make the games a success.

They provide athletes with outstanding emotional support of friendship and encouragement. These winter games host 200 athletes from around the state. All Special Olympians strive to win a gold medal, however, each one takes the oath, "Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt."

Eagle Ridge Inn and Resort is just six miles east of Galena on U.S. Rte. 20. Chestnut Mountain is eight miles south of Galena. All of which are just a short three hour ride from Chicago.

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland

by GLORIA DAVIS

The production that opens the winter theatrical season at Andre's Steak House Dinner Theater, Richmond, is one wherein the kiddies are best left at home with a babysitter.

And prospective attendees might also think twice before inviting their clergyman or prudish maiden aunt to join them.

But for those who like to laugh at risqué nonsense, "My Husband's Wild Desires Almost Drove Me Mad," might be just the ticket. I know that juicy prime rib served before the play was just the ticket to special culinary enjoyment.

This is a spicy effort that opens with a bedroom thief hiding in a closet while the madame of the house (or apartment) tries to entice the building's maintenance man into a tryst while her husband takes notes from the other closet where he is hiding dressed as a woman.

The thief gets involved in this kinky nonsense and so does the Madame's sister.

The lively cast's antics were appreciated by many members of the audience as they did not hoard their laughter, giggling away throughout the show.

Bethany Evans, as the rather dull sister whose husband has taken off without her, steals the show with her animated facial expressions.

Ruth Ann Bishop, a local Dolly Parton, looks voluptuous enough and Gary Koon's unlucky burglar draws laughs galore.

Don Crop as the strange husband and Jerry Collins as the janitor know their way around stage, (this time sort of a strange way around), as usual.

The set design is a good one, producer and Director Ron Ferraro's efforts get more professional by the day.

Bethany Evans

Women In Management To Meet

The Lake Suburban Chapter of Women In Management will hold a luncheon meeting beginning at 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 21, at the Landings of Libertyville, 1290 S. Milwaukee Ave. Featured speaker Kathryn Riegler, of Management Skills management development firm, will address the group on "Influencing Others." Cost is $10 for members and $15 for nonmembers. Reservations and remittance may be mailed to Diane Haley, 21299 W. Lakeview Pkwy., Mundelein, 60060; or call her at (414)396-4300 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Present Ethnic Irish Seminar

The Illinois Humanities Council and the South Side Irish Parade will host a program on "Chicagoland Irish and the Ethnic Neighborhood" at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 18, at the Irish American Heritage Center, 4626 N. Knox St., Chicago. Several ethnic and Irish history scholars will speak on Irish immigration, cultural conflicts, and the present condition of ethnic neighborhoods in Chicago. Dr. Thomas Cunningham of Loyola University will serve as discussion moderator. For further information, contact George Hendry at South Side Irish, (312)238-1969.

Sponsors Puppets

The David Adler Cultural Center will present Chicago's Puppet Place in a production of "Peter Rabbit" at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 18 at the Libertyville High School Studio Theatre, 708 W. Park Ave., Libertyville.

This musical version of Beatrix Potter's famous tale is for children in preschool through third grade.

The Puppet Place, one of the oldest puppet theatres in the midwest, is under the direction of Ray Nelson. A teacher, consultant and master puppeteer, Nelson received an Emmy in 1975 for outstanding accomplishment in children's programming for "The Magic Door" on CBS-TV.

Admission to this children's program is $3 for adults and $2 for children. Tickets are available at the door on a first-come, first-served basis. Doors will open 30 minutes before curtain time.

The David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is a non-profit organization. For more information, call (312)367-0707.

Schedule 2nd Concert

Continuing the theme of "Friends and Family," the Libertyville School of Folk and Old Time Music will sponsor a second concert and dance to celebrate its 12th birthday. The musical party will be at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 17, at the American Legion Hall, 715 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

Featured musicians will be Russ and Adam Avridson; Bonnie Biehl and Judy Morkrid; Doug and Molly Miller; Don, Marcia and Mary Morman; and Connie, Mike and Margaret Purcell.

After one (or two) last song(s) all together, musicians and audience members will clear the floor for an old-time barn dance.

"It's Fer Reel" will provide the music and Bill Sudkamp will call, walking everybody through each dance first, so that no experience is necessary to do-si-do the night away.

The Libertyville School of Folk and Old Time Music is part of the David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville. For more information, call (312)367-0707.

Accepting Art Slides

Slides are now being accepted for "Open Spectrum," a juried fine arts exhibition. Artists working in the media of painting, sculpture, drawing, graphics or photography are encouraged to participate.

A prospectus detailing the exhibit can be obtained by calling the David Adler Cultural Center at (312) 367-0707. Six Awards of Excellence at $250 each will be made, as well as a "Best of Show" at $500.

County Court Denies Liberty Lakes Petition

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Committee For the Incorporation of Liberty Lakes hit another snag on Monday when Lake County Judge Harry O. Hartel, Jr. denied its petition to declare the statute calling for Lake County Board approval on any incorporation taking place in the county unconstitutional.

According to one of the committee's founders Jo Garrett, they are not unhappy about finding themselves at the appellate court level now that an appeal to Hartel's decision has been filed. "We expect the appellate court in Elgin to take a broader look at the question on a statewide basis," said Garrett.

The hearing in front of the Lake County courts was slated to start on Thursday, Jan. 8, but from the beginning the Liberty Lakes group seemed to be in trouble.

The petition was originally scheduled to be heard by Judge Bernard Drew who withdrew because of a personal tie with the attorney representing the Village of Lake Villa, William Rosing.

The hearing started on Friday at 9 a.m. in Judge Charles Scott's court.

According to Garrett, Scott was not feeling well that morning and also had a very heavy case load so at 10:45 a.m. he passed the case on to Associate Judge Wallace Dunn.

At this point, Atty. Paul Phillips (Lindenhurst), Rosing (Lake Villa) and Assistant States' Atty. Larry Clark (Lake County) asked for a change of judges because of a previous decision handed down by Dunn that disallowed objections by Waukegan and Zion in the Beach Park incorporation.

Hartel was not prepared to hear the case so he declared a recess.

When the hearing reconvened counsel for the incorporation committee Atty. Newton Finn asked that the hearing take place with only the judge and the committee present but the attorneys for the villages and the county argued that their clients had interests that would be affected by the judge's decision and they had the right to be heard.

Hartel ruled in favor of the villages and the county and continued the hearing to Monday.

At Monday's hearing Finn called the county board's objections to the incorporation, based on "non-compliance with the county framework plan and insufficient tax base" arbitrary, saying that their were no ground rules set down on either of these compliances.

Finn also said that a previous statement made to the media by member of the county planning and zoning committee, Delores Axelrod, after a hearing in front of that committee, had denied the incorporation group unbiased due process.

In a radio broadcast Axelrod had said that the incorporation of Liberty Lakes would add no services and would do nothing to protect the quality of life of the area's residents.

She reportedly added, "The new village will not have a planning staff and will lose lawsuits from developers because they won't have the staff or the municipal wherewithall to invest."

The incorporation proponents used these statements by Axelrod as a basis for the withdrawal of their incorporation petition from the county board level in December after which they filed in the county courts.

Association Honors 25 Volunteer Aides

Twenty-five individuals volunteered their time to the Northeastern Illinois Special Recreation Assn. (NISRA) on a regular basis during fall 1986 programs. The following people collectively donated over 397 hours of service to children and adults with special needs:

From Libertyville, Karen Balmes, Dawn Chapin, Patrick Doody, Dave Fiore, Heather Gustafson, Cindy Hahn, Peggy Jacobs, Laura Savage and Beth Seal; Mundelein residents Ann David- sen, George Forwe, Kevin Jeray, Bob LaMontagne, Norma Mendez, Heather Mohler, Mary Murray, Ann Marie Prefontaine, and June Teevin; Avon Twp., Cindy Butera and Diane Kumm; Elia Twp., Pam Beatty; Lake Villa Twp., Gayle Florian; Warren Twp., Norma McMullin and Kim Krug; and Wauconda Twp. resident Mike Elliott.

NISRA is an extension of the Mundelein Park & Recreation Dist., Vernon Hills Park Dist. and the village of Libertyville.

Volunteers are needed for winter/spring 1987 programs. For more information, call Mary Ber- man at (312)566-2277.

Tax Forms Available

J.R. Starkey, Internal Revenue Service district director for northern Illinois, has announced that all federal income tax forms and publications are now available through a special toll-free phone number, (800) 424-3676, weekdays between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Taxpayers should have already received their tax packages; however, many people need additional forms or a publication to complete their return.

Starkey emphasized that only forms and publications will be available by calling the new phone number. Individuals with tax questions or who need other assistance should call numbers listed in their local phone directory.

It's A Weighty Problem

by GLORIA DAVIS

Well the usual January blahs have set in and articles in the women's magazines, friends and relatives, plus my husband, have suggested that I should get into a fitness program that might not only alleviate the blahs, but most of all eliminate the June Ha Ha's. That's their name for the expected reactions to the exposure of any part of my body between the wrist, the ankle and the neck.

When I complained that the cost of a health club membership was too high, those smarties pointed out that I had paid more than that for my last outfit from Omar's (Cheap at the price considering the amount of material used.)

I countered with the fact that I was much too busy to find the time to sweat and strain. Again, in the most humoring of tones, they suggested that the unconstructive time I spend watching those lovely bodies on "Dynasty" and "Dallas" might be better spent on personal reconstruction.

and set-up a fitness schedule second to none, well maybe one or two.

I loaded the freezer with low-cal dinners, bought the usual low-cal snacks and beverages and vowed to view myself in the mirror, sans body covering, twice a day for incentive.

The next step was to spend an hour in front of the swinging pendulum of our grandfather's clock repeating, "You'll never want food again, you'll never want food again, you'll never want food again."

I packed away any outfit that had a touch of smartness and left out just the largest and drabest garb I owned, guaranteeing that I would hate, I mean despise the sight of myself in the mirror and would have no choice but to stick to the renovation program.

As my checkbook flattened, the thought of turning myself into a TIF Dist. or asking President Reagan to declare me a national disaster passed through my mind, but I decided that the only slim thing about this

Scouts Serve Pancakes

The quarterly Court of Honor and Christmas party for Scout Troop 190 of Antioch was held on Dec. 14 at the American Legion Hall in Antioch.

Entertainment included a short presentation of the year's monthly campouts and skits by the Troop's three patrols. Activities discussed were a trip to the Museum of Science and Industry on Dec. 20, and a Super Bowl Sunday pancake breakfast at St. Peter's.

The troop is sponsored by St. Peter's Church and is under the leadership of Ken Wisniewski and Kevin Mortenson. The troop meets each Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall. All inquiries are welcome.

Moose Women Have Good 1986

According to Senior Regent Theresa Grefkowitz, the Antioch chapter of the Women of the Moose ended 1986 on a successful note. Mooseheart headquarters requires a membership quota to be completed each fiscal year ending June 30. The Antioch members have enrolled over the 50 percent mark with six months remaining to attain this year's goal.

Two committees sponsored successful projects during December: the Santa Breakfast served by the star recorder committee with Terry Smallwood as its chairperson; and Sarah Dykstra, leader of the library committee, held a white elephant and bake sale.

Kathy Ladewig and the social service committee were hosts for the two December meetings and are planning the Valentine's Day dance to be held at the Moose home on Feb. 14.

Recorder Louise Gutowski was named co-worker of the month. Besides having the most time consuming tasks in the chapter, Louise serves as "first lady" of the Antioch Moose as her husband, Joe, is its governor.

Blood Drive At St. Peter's

St. Peter's Catholic Church, 557 W. Lake Ave., Antioch, will sponsor a blood drive from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 31 in the school gym.

The drive is being held in conjunction with the American Red Cross Blood Services of the Mid-America Region.

The blood donated through Red Cross at St. Peter's drive will be used to meet patient needs in hospitals throughout the Lake County and metropolitan area.

Last year Red Cross collected nearly 85,000 units of whole blood, but was able to actually distribute more than 423,000 units due to modern processing techniques, which allow blood to be broken down into components to help as many as four or more hospital patients. Currently about 98 percent of the blood collected by Red Cross is processed into components.

The Red Cross is based on the concept of community responsibility, which means enough persons volunteering to donate blood will always insure an adequate supply for anyone who needs it. The blood is donated by individuals and persons in community, church and business donor groups throughout the Lake County and metropolitan area.

January is national blood donor month. Anyone between the ages of 17 and 65, weighing at least 110 pounds, and in general good health, is encouraged to donate. For information or to schedule a blood donor appointment call Ellen Ipsen.

When I Think About It

So I was forced to go on a safari, hunting for a leopard that would fit. Take my word for it, this was not an easy task. It seems they only make exercise clothes to fit those who don't need to exercise.

Boy, was I mad when I found out that they don't offer black full-body girdles, so I settled for the basic black short job, plus tights.

Actually I don't really look that bad in them — if you find the sight of "The Refrigerator" in a tutu passable.

Neither wild horses, nor a thirst for slimness, could drag me to a public health club in that outfit. I wouldn't mind all the whispered "tsch tsch's," its that uproarious laughter emanating from those slime with planned bodies that I refused to face.

So I embarked on a second search, this time for a private health club, open at 3 a.m., to which only I had the key. This crusade too proved to be fruitless.

Given little choice, I settled for the privacy of my home, a $19.95 tension spring with a handle and stirrups, dug out my old Slim Jim exercise chair, borrowed my son's exercise cycle, rented Jane Fonda's killer video tapes deal was my chance of receiving governmental funds to pay for it.

And I must say I have seen the proof of the pudding (wish it was chocolate!). Where there's a will —, It's been one whole week and I'm already up to the second aerobics movement on Jumping Jane's tape (that woman's insane!), I haven't cheated on my diet — well maybe just a teensy bit, and I can do my situps without that "ready to explode" look. I'm now in the pending heart attack phase.

Like a member of Alcoholics Anonymous, I'm taking it a day at a time, marking the days off on a chart on the wall above my bathroom scale, in the room that I have renamed Auschwitz.

But I'm beginning to wonder if this fitness stuff is what it's cracked-up to be. I feel terrible. I still ache in muscles I didn't even know I owned, my stomach is on a continuous rumble and worst of all, I spend a lot of time hallucinating that I'm diving off a mountain of butter pecan ice cream into a huge pool of hot fudge and someone keeps rescuing me!

St. Peter's To Hold Luncheon

St. Peter's Council of Catholic Women will sponsor "Luncheon Is Served" at noon on Tuesday, Jan. 20 at St. Peter's.

The fundraiser is open to the public. Working people may come during the noon hour lunch period. Tickets are $3.

All proceeds from the luncheon will be donated to St. Peter's Church Renovation Fund.

Tickets may be obtained from Ceil Jordan, president;

Lucy Altman, chairlady;

Lorraine Kurinec, co-chairlady; or from any member.

Expect Lawsuit To Enjoin County From Hearings

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

I HAVE LEARNED from a knowledgeable source that a suit was expected to be filed in the Lake County Circuit Court at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 14, to enjoin Lake County from holding hearings on the landfill applications of Waste Management and ARF Landfill Corp. Expected to be named in the suit are Lake County, Waste Management and ARF.

ELLIOTT BACALL, WHO was once a candidate for the Republican nomination for Lake County State's Attorney, has apparently not made many friends among his colleagues in the legal community.

He applied for an opening as an associate judge in the Lake County Circuit Court. All told, 13 attorneys filed applications for the spot. When the Lake County Bar thday, they will permanently lose the right to benefits such as student aid, job training, federal employment and, in some states, entrance to a state college and permission to practice law.

Even men who served in the armed forces, but did not register for the draft, could lose these benefits. Those who are 26 or older are no longer eligible for the draft.

So you folks that were supposed to register but didn't, you better get to it.

I don't know why people were so reluctant to register when the draft returned. While I was in high school the Vietnam War raged on. Even the draft resisters, for the most part, registered during that time (If you didn't register, you didn't get a draft card to burn for the TV cameras, so resisters were more particular about registering than the average Joes.)

What the heck, I registered at a time when annual visions of being assigned to jungle combat zones haunted me and my peers at lottery time. For those too young to remember, winning the lottery in those days did not make you a millionaire, it put you at the top of the list of those to be called.

Just Politics

Details were sketchy at press time, so it was unclear whether the suit is an effort to halt the process altogether or to alter who will be the responsible agency for conducting hearings on the application.

There has been much concern that Lake County would have a conflict of interest if it heard the applications, because its settlement on the Heartland lawsuits is contingent upon Waste Management receiving approval for its proposed landfill.

Assn. was polled, Bacall was clobbered. He received only one highly recommended vote, nine recommended votes and 118 not recommended votes.

Perhaps he should hire a public relations firm.

THE SELECTIVE SERVICE sent a reminder out that many men who were supposed to register for the draft in 1981 are going to turn 26 this year. The feds remind those that have not registered that if they do not do so before their 26th birthday,

Judge Lifts Injunction Off Saddlebrook Farms

by SUSAN MONTGOMERY

The Lake County Circuit Court has dismissed an injunction prohibiting the developers of the 4,800-unit Saddlebrook Farms mobile home park in Round Lake from selling or leasing any of the units.

Circuit Judge Bernard E. Drew ruled Monday that the plaintiffs, a group of Fremont Twp. property owners, "have not demonstrated a likelihood success on the merits" and the temporary restraining order entered Oct. 29 be resolved.

The injunction had also ordered that the DWG Corp., Saddlebrook developers, could proceed with construction at their own risk. The 865-acre site is located at Fairfield and Peterson Rds.

The property owners contended that the permitted uses of the site, which include two and three-bedroom mobile homes, a shopping center, two package liquor stores, and a restaurant are incompatible with the surrounding property.

They also charged that residents were given little notice prior to annexation of the site and that the development will depreciate the value of the surrounding property.

DWG spokesman Jack Lavin said, "We said all along that we felt we would be successful in court. Now we'll continue at greater speed."

Lavin also said that DWG will begin a stronger push on marketing the mobile home units.

One factor that ruled in Saddlebrook's favor, he said, was that the property had been zoned for multi-family units 10 or 12 years ago.

"(Drew) remarked, what have these people been doing all these years," said Lavin.

In December, developer Charles Fanero, DWG president, had indicated that he would seek a settlement for the damages caused by the injunction. Lavin only said Fanero is now conferring with his attorneys about this possibility.

Superbowl Of Science

The trophy for first place in Argonne National Laboratory's High School Science Bowl is readied by Argonne Director Alan Schriesheim and Juanita Thomas of Argonne's division of educational programs. The Argonne Science Bowl will pit 48 teams of Chicago area high school science students against each other in a battle of brains and scientific knowledge for the regional science championship.

Little Opposition In Township Races

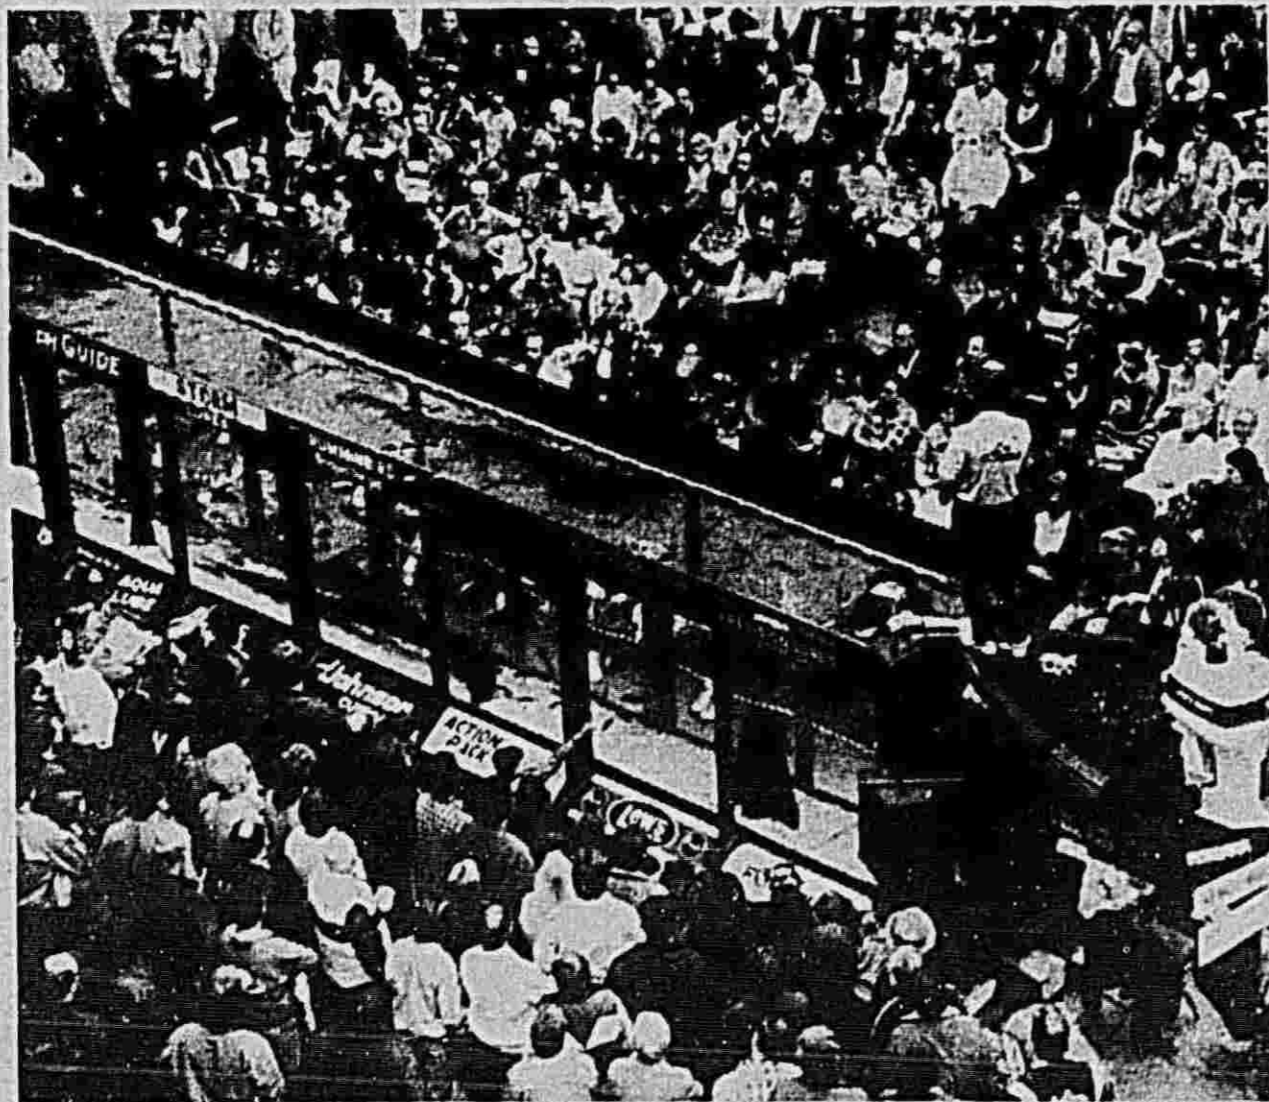

The entire present Bristol Twp. Board, the office of clerk and treasurer and the positions of constable are all open on the April 7 general election ballot.

Chairman Noel Elfering and Sups. Russell Horton and Don Wienke have filed to keep those seats. They and Clerk Gloria Bailey will be running unopposed. Geraldine Merten will be running unopposed for the treasurer's seat now held by retiring Doris Magowitz. Constables Robert Bohn and David Bundy are running for reelection and Randy Hansche is going after the other constable's job now held by Christopher Keeffer.

Randall Twp. Chairman Thomas Zeiger will be opposed by Kim Singelton and First Sup. Robert Gehring will be opposed by Phyllis Johnson. Second supervisors Robert Gehring and Maria Augustyn will be challenged by Phyllis Johnson and Mike Epping. Clerk Phyllis Kaskin is unopposed in her try to retain the seat she has held for 19 years. Julie Horbach will try to unseat incumbent Treasurer Rose Podella and Constables Ron Petersen and Fred Sarker are unopposed.

In Salem Twp., Twp. Chairman Richard Stetson will reseek election unopposed. Sups. Josephine Weidman and Joseph Meier and newcomer Albert Johnson will be running for the two open supervisors' seats. Clerk Sandra McCormack and Treasurer Barbara Schmitt have filed to run for their seats and are unopposed. Ed Nowicki is also unopposed in his try for the municipal's judge's seat vacated by Eugene Briggs.

Hooking 'Em At The 'Hawg Trough'

Larry Richter will bring his 42-ft. glass and steel 'Hawg Trough' to the Chicagoland Sport Fishing, Travel and Outdoors Show Jan. 30 through Feb. 8 at the O'Hare Expo Center in Rosemont. Richter, Tony Portincaso, Dave Csanda, Spence Petros and other experts will demonstrate largemouth bass catching techniques every hour throughout the run of the show.

School Board Races To Be Almost Academic

In the school board elections to be held on the April 7 ballot, at Bristol Consolidated Grade School there are three seats open on the board of education. Having filed by the deadline of Jan. 6, running for the three board members seats will be incumbents James Coleman and Richard Bizek, Karen Kiefer, Alcinda Kordecki and Brian Backstrand.

In the Central High School Board election, up on the ballot will be the seats of the Paris and Salem representatives. Incumbents Ben Ziehem and Richard Hartnell have filed to retain those seats.

Rosemary Dietschweriler will be the only one running for the president's seat which she presently holds at Lakewood Grade School, Twin Lakes.

Incumbents Jan Iselin and Tom Zeiger are the only ones running for the seats they now hold on the Randall Consolidated Grade School Board.

At Riverview Grade School in Silver Lake, incumbents John Schmalfeldt and Esther Thornton are running for reelection and will run unopposed.

Delores Pagel and Thomas Seep should have an easy time of getting reelected to the Trevor Grade School Board since they too are running unopposed.

No one wants to fight Linda Orvis in her bid for retention of her position at Wilmot Grade School as board president.

There will be three open board member seats up on the April 7 ballot at Wilmot High School. Filing to run for those seats were William Huston, Joellen Kroll, Jerome Epping and Elaine Luedke.

New Law To Boost Number Of Organ Donors In State

Several hundred Illinois residents could receive a new lease on life this year, thanks to a new state law that encourages organ donations. Under this law, the number of organs available for life-saving transplant operations could increase dramatically as hospitals ask the relatives of patients who die to donate organs and tissues of the deceased.

Over the past several years, the number of successful organ transplants has increased rapidly due to new drugs and improved medical techniques. People who several years ago would have died, now can lead healthy, productive lives after undergoing operations to transplant kidneys, hearts, livers and other vital organs.

But as the number of transplants has increased, a serious shortage of organs and tissues has developed. Efforts to publicize the need for such donations have resulted in a slight increase in donors, but the demand for transplants still greatly exceeds the supply of organs. Because of this many people waiting for transplants die before organs become available.

To help increase donations, the new law requires hospitals with 100 beds or more to ask the families of people who die in their facilities to consider allowing one or more of the deceased person's organs to be donated for medical transplants. Hospital officials must contact the "highest priority" relative available and ask if that person would consider allowing some or all of the victim's organs to be donated. Highest on this priority list is the spouse of the deceased, followed by an adult son or daughter, parent, adult brother or sister, or legal guardian.

Hospitals are not required to make the donation requests when the person is apparently not a suitable candidate for organ or tissue donations, when the person has indicated previously that he or she did not wish to be a donor, or when there is reason to believe an anatomical donation is against the family's religious beliefs.

Officials believe that the new law could result in a doubling of the supply of internal organs available for transplants in 1987. Based on results in other states with similar laws, the number of corneas donated in Illinois could triple.

All of this spells good news for many people awaiting transplants--and that number is getting higher all the time. Each day in the U.S. at least one heart, 60 corneas and 20 kidneys are transplanted. But for every transplant performed, thousands of others could benefit from similar operations. In fact, it is estimated that as many as 14,500 people would be helped by a heart transplant, 4,000 to 5,000 from liver transplants, and 13,000 from kidney transplants.

With the implementation of this law, Illinois joins 28 other states that have established similar organ donation request requirements. In October of this year, a federal law with similar requirements will take effect. While hospitals that don't comply with Illinois' law won't be penalized, those that don't follow provisions of the federal law will risk losing federal funds.

Over the past several years, the Illinois General Assembly has passed several laws to help persons in need of transplants. Those laws, combined with this new push to increase organ donations, should help ensure a brighter future for many in this state.

Feeding Hungry Is A Big Job

Each year thousands of baskets of food are donated to needy Lake County families at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. Without the assistance of food pantries and other groups who help the needy, holidays would be very bleak indeed.

The Urban Advisory Council of the Cooperative Extension Service is preparing a directory of all groups and agencies in the county that collect and distribute food to low income residents at holidays and during the year.

The directory, when completed, will help agencies with referrals, sharing of surplus food, aid in avoiding duplication of services and help agencies act as a unified whole for purchasing, publicity and overall coordination of activities.

Some of the problems the group will address are:

—Planning baskets and supplies to meet the tastes and needs of ethnic clients.

—Donations of foods that are not popular, useable or nutritious.

—Food safety and handling, especially of meat and poultry products.

—Low income clients often have limited cooking skills and minimal cooking equipment available.

—Finding enough food for clients.

All county groups that serve low income clientele and wishing to be listed in the directory are invited to a council meeting on Monday, Jan. 26 from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Cooperative Extension Auditorium, 33020 N. Rte. 45, Grayslake.

For more information about the council or the directory, call home economics adviser Barbara Dahl at (312) 223-8627.

Childcare Information Meeting

Learn how to start a home child care business through a child care provider's information meeting at 7 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 16, at the Avon Twp. Center, 433 E. Washington St. in Round Lake Park. Sponsored by the YWCA of Lake County, the meeting will offer information on subjects related to child development and business-related aspects of child care. There is no charge, and refreshments will be served. For more information, contact Eleanor Seegren at the YWCA, (312) 662-4248.

To Provide Academy Information

Students or parents who are interested in the Illinois Math and Science Academy for gifted and talented students are invited to an informational meeting at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 15, at Adlai Stevenson High School auditorium, Rte. 22, Prairie View. Dr. Lou Ann Smith, dean of admissions and research at the academy, will speak on the admission procedure and applicant qualifications. For more information, contact Ruby Payne at (312) 223-3400.

Hearing Expected Soon On Future Of Campbell

The public will be given ample opportunity to speak out on plans to expand Campbell Airport for increased commercial use.

That assurance was given by Mayor George Scherer of Round Lake Park, prime mover behind efforts to expand and upgrade Campbell, which is located south of Round Lake Park and Grayslake.

part of the application for federal and state funds.

"Our first official hearing should be held soon," declared the mayor, who has been working closely with Burke & Associates, nationally known airport consulting firm which is preparing a feasibility study on the potential of Campbell for commercial purposes.

A preliminary hearing was held last fall on Campbell, which has been serving basically recreational flyers since it was established nearly 30 years ago. "I believe the initial hearing went well," Scherer observed.

small band of general aviation enthusiasts feel an expanded Campbell Airport will serve growing commercial needs for the entire west Lake County and eastern McHenry County areas.

Avoid Landfill Hysteria

Plans for expansion of the mid-county landfill to include a state-of-the-art solid waste incineration system are generating increased interest and more than a little confusion. In short, the general public knows very little about the project, but some people are talking a lot about how the solid wastes of our locality should be disposed of.

Mayor Colin McRae of Mundelein made a lot of sense in commenting on the project while at the same time taking to task Trustee Ralph Rohling, who called the site, located between Mundelein and Grayslake, the future "dump" of the North Shore.

"Any landfill in this area is not just for the North Shore, but for us, too," declared Mayor McRae. How true. The landfill at Rtes. 83 and 120, operated by ARF Landfill Corp., has been there more than 20 years and serves a large number of communities in both Lake, Cook and McHenry counties.

Technically, the incineration part of the expansion program is known as a resource recovery center. A combination government-public group, the Lake County Solid Waste Advisory Committee, now the Lake County Joint Action Waste Agency, has been studying disposal needs for three years. It is getting ready to receive a formal proposal.

Committee members have done yeoman service. It is to be commended. We feel strongly that their recommendations will serve Lake County for well over 20 years.

As Mayor McRae cautioned, hysteria is to be guarded against. Both concerned citizens and public officials should approach proposed solutions to the crying need for waste disposal answers with an open mind.

Interestingly enough, Libertyville flanks the landfill area through a finger annexation some years ago to pick up industrial property at Rte. 45 and Peterson Rd. Maybe concerned citizens in Grayslake and Mundelein can assuage their emotions somewhat by referring to the project as "Libertyville's dump."

A Place For Death

Kenosha County Sheriff Fred Ekornaas made an eloquent plea for the death penalty in dealing with the brutal murder of his nephew and another youth in connection with a holiday gasoline station robbery. The youths were beaten and stabbed and left to die when their assailants set fire to the building. Two young men quickly were apprehended and charged with first-degree murder. They face a maximum penalty of life in prison plus 70 years.

In discussing the case with newsmen, Sheriff Ekornaas called for Wisconsin to adopt the death penalty. If sent to prison, the accused murderers would be eligible for parole about the time they reach middle age. The death penalty is legal in Illinois.

The sheriff said, at the very least, people committing violent crime should be sentenced to life without parole. "We should not try to rehabilitate them. They should just sit there and rot." We couldn't agree more with Sheriff Ekornaas. In a time when savagery and mindless brutality are becoming more common all the time, society needs the ultimate weapon—the death penalty—to protect itself against beasts who are masquerading as human beings.

As the bereaved sheriff put it, "No family should have to suffer with this kind of pain knowing the person who did it lives."

There was a time when we argued against the death penalty as being both inhuman and economically wasteful. Our minds have been changed by the jungleism that lurks everywhere. The death penalty has a place and it should be used without shame when needed.

Capricious Mother Nature

Just when it looked as if we'd be experiencing a snow-less winter, Mother Nature reverted to form and delivered a generous helping of white stuff to remind us that it's still January and not mid-April. Welcome to winter.

Whether this area ever experienced a winter with no snow isn't known, but we've been around long enough to know that it isn't unusual for this part of the world to enjoy a winter with relatively mild temperatures and virtually no snow. To counteract any belief that the winter of 1986-87 is unusual, we vividly recall a year when normal cold weather and snow didn't arrive until the latter part of January.

That was the season an uncooperative weatherman knocked out what was being billed as the Midwest's first major winter carnival, an event that was envisioned to rival shindigs in St. Paul and other northern climes where winter is assured. Larry Leafblad, now a well-known local radio personality and popular bandleader, conceived the Fox Lake Festival on Ice for the 1965-66 winter while an enterprising young advertising executive for this newspaper and the associated Lakeland Newspapers. Leafblad and his committee put together a fun weekend for early January that included family ice skating, tobogganing, queen contest, cold weather style show and two dances that would serve as a backdrop to ABC television's national telecasting of the International Ice Boating Races on the Chain O'Lakes. The committee had every conceivable detail organized except one. There was no guarantee for ice and snow. As it turned out, the lakes didn't freeze that winter with safe ice until the end of January. The Midwest's "first major winter carnival" also was the last winter carnival in these parts. Blame a capricious Mother Nature. Don't bet on an old-fashioned winter being a sure thing around here. Because it isn't.

How Area Gains 100 New Jobs After Dark Day

by BILL SCHROEDER

Chicago's loss is Lake County's gain—250 new jobs!

The interesting part about the jump forward in local employment opportunities is that it came about without involvement of the federal or state government, thank you.

The job advancement resulted through a three-way cooperative effort involving the public and private sector with old-fashioned American boosterism provided by the Chamber of Commerce. Here's what happened as the chain of events came to this column:

Fansteel Corp. announced the closing of a division in North Chicago with a loss of 150 jobs. Bad days ahead, agreed Mayor Bobby Thompson and Robert (Bob) Byrne, president of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce. What to do? Both also agreed that a boarded-up factory building would be undesirable. Time for action, urged Byrne, a public spirited citizen who has a world of contacts in the fields of business and government. Byrne knew of a plant in Chicago whose owners were disenchanted with their environment and were looking at a site in Indiana. Before the snap of a finger, Mayor Thompson and City Clerk Tim Miller were on their way for an appointment to throw out the welcome mat for Lake County and extoll the virtues of North Chicago.

Thompson and Miller were able to convince Chairman Roy Cross that he should look at the soon-to-be-shuttered Fansteel facility for Federal Die Casting's new home. The next step was getting Federal Die Casting management to look over the local scene. It didn't take Cross long to reach the decision to relocate to North Chicago. The bottom line for local employment: Fansteel loss, 150 jobs; Federal Die Cast gain, 250 jobs. Net gain, 100 jobs.

"This is a case of local people taking a 'we oughta do' attitude instead of looking for help from Washington or Springfield," Byrne remarked. "The city, the Chamber and private industry working together resulted in a new business finding a suitable home. No inducement, no gimmicks. Just bringing people together and giving them the facts plus letting them know they're welcome. This is great. The important thing to know is this system works. And it can work again," enthused Byrne.

As a political activist, Byrne couldn't help but chuckle over the fact that a Democratic mayor and a staunch Republican, Roy Cross, were instrumental in finalizing the move. "No politics here, just work and neighborliness," Byrne summed up. Call it high level bi-partisanship.

Letters To The Editor:

Keep Seatbelt Law

Editor:

Due to an accident involving a deer, I feel it is very important that the seatbelt law be enforced. Using the belt saved me from losing control of my automobile. I was not physically injured, however, this was a traumatic experience with thoughts of what could have been the results. The accident occurred on a well-traveled Lake County highway about 3:30 in the afternoon. The Grayslake Police and the Lake County Sheriff were exceptionally kind and understanding.

Seeking Clean Town

Editor:

I attended a meeting of the CLEAR organization—Citizens of Lake County for Environmental Action Reform—and was really excited to see people acting on an issue that is in Grayslake's backyard, the ARF landfill expansion and plans for the future. I really would like to see support for Libertyville Township with signatures, contributions, letter writing, phone calls and also their personal appearance on Jan. 19. I'm a concerned resident who complained about ARF and am willing to help for a clean town for the future.

Ban Leg Trap

Editor:

In 1987, a very important bill will be presented to the Illinois General Assembly. This bill is to ban the leg-hold trap in the State of Illinois.

The trap, itself, is a remnant of a barbaric method of capturing animals. Two steel jaws snap shut on any part of the anatomy that releases the holding spring. As a veterinarian, I have seen the mangled animals which have had the misfortune to roam where those traps had been set. Usually it is the toes or legs which have to be amputated...that is if the animal is still alive after being captured by this trap and left for days before discovery. However, it may be a laceration of the face, or even a missing tongue which has fallen victim to this crushing trap.

Although intended for fur-bearing animals, these traps take their toll on a multitude of "non-target" animals such as eagles, hawks, deer and, of course, family pets.

These traps are set indiscriminately by "hunters" trying to get their game. Frequently they are by streams, in fields, but also placed in park areas. Recently one was found in a recreation area where small children roam and play. Can you imagine the consequences if small fingers decided to explore this unusual shaped piece of metal...or if a foot happened to trigger the release of those penetrating jaws.

Around the world, 63 countries have banned the use of the leg-hold trap. Individual states in the U.S. are now voting on the ban of this relic of past ages. Now is the time for Illinois to vote, and each person should let his congressman know of his feelings.

The Elsa Wild Animal Appeal, P.O. Box 675, Elmhurst, IL 60126, is active in spearheading the drive to let the Governor and Congressmen know of the sentiments of the people of the State of Illinois. Write this organization for information and support. It is a non-profit organization, so send along a self-addressed, stamped envelope if you ask them for information, and perhaps send them a donation so that they can continue to publicize this cruelty to our local wildlife and family pets.

Take a moment for the benefit of wildlife...it only takes a few minutes to place a phone call to your local representative...his or her name will be in the phone book. Let your opinion be known! Write a letter if you have time, but don't just sit idly by and do nothing. Call the county building or this newspaper to find the name and addresses of congresspersons to contact. Don't just sit and do nothing...do SOMETHING for the benefit of man and his animals.

County Museum Ready To Amaze

by MARK BENNO

"Having fun and being educated don't have to be mutually exclusive."

Those are the sentiments of Rebecca Goldberg, supervisor of the museum and education for the Lake County Museum in Wauconda. And in a world where such goals are more often promise than reality, the Lake County Museum delivers.

The museum is closed until February, when the results of some minor construction will propel it into the new year and a host of guests and visitors. For those, like me, who haven't been to the museum for many years, some surprises are definitely in store.

Jan Smith, curator of collections and site manager, led me on a guided tour through the attractive and visually stimulating exhibits. Smith spends much of her time assisting visitors with questions that require research in the museum's extensive library.

The library, like everything in the museum, is directly connected to Lake County and its rich history. Museum buffs from all over, however, will note that it manages to exude the atmosphere of a large metropolitan museum despite its more limited subject matter.

One of the first rooms most visitors see is the orientation room. It is a cleverly designed room which focuses on maps and their relation to the changes in Lake County which occur over time.

The maps begin with a picture of the earth, with Lake County marked by a tiny red dot. The views zoom in closer and closer to finally reveal each individual house in a satellite picture taken in the 50's.

The designer of this room, and most other rooms in the museum, is Hans Gill. Gill has both bachelor and masters' degree training in art and sculpture, which is clearly evident in the careful attention to detail that shines through in his work.

Gill also designed, along with Smith, another one of the most interesting rooms in the museum. The discovery room is a place where people can actually touch and handle museum objects, without the threat of being removed from the premises.

"It's a fun place, with a collage of a lot of different materials," said Smith. Goldberg agreed, saying, "there's a lot of hands on things. You remember more about your visit."

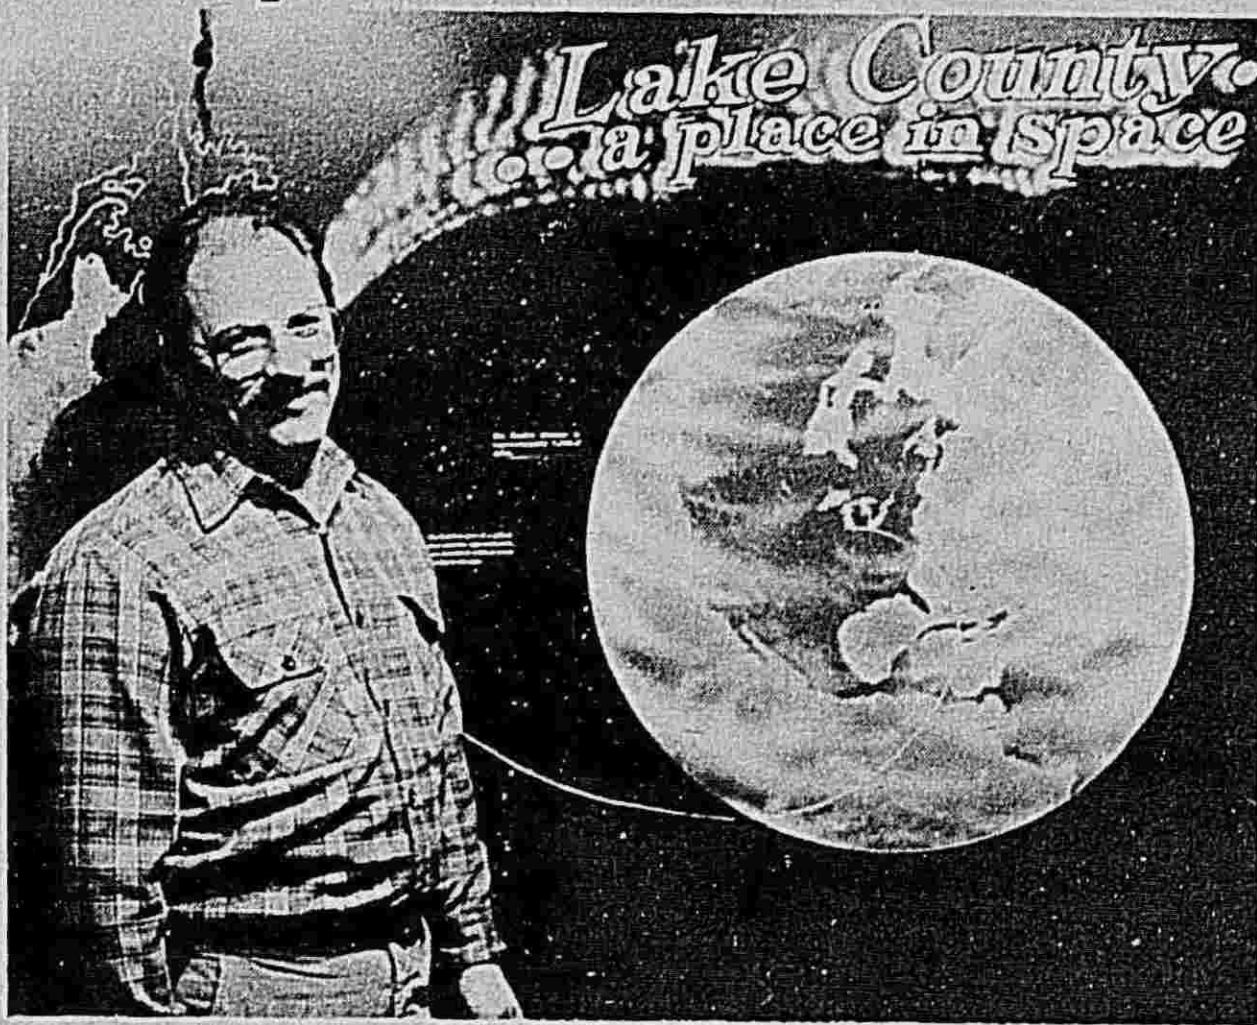

CLC Offers Programs For Family

The College of Lake County is often overlooked as a source of family entertainment, yet it has programs running throughout the year. The following programs will be presented in the next month. Admission to all is free.

Thursday, Jan. 15: Radio journalist Lou Palmer will speak on the status of Black Americans at the Lakeshore Educational Center at 7 p.m.

Friday, Jan. 16 through Sunday, Feb. 8: The CLC Gallery at the Grayslake campus will present the works of Henry Simon, W.P.A. artist. At the opening reception on Friday, Jan. 16, Simon's grandson, Fred, who is a classical-jazz pianist, will perform at 7 p.m.

Thursday, Jan. 29: Top comedians from around the country will perform in the main lobby at noon. The show is sponsored in cooperation with Roars Comedy Club.

h, curator of special exhibits, is in charge of the Curt Teich display.

Goldberg said that January is the perfect time for renovation, since it is a slow month for field trips to the museum. Aside from the postcard exhibit and Victorian storefronts, general clean-up and painting will also add to the museum's new look.

The mystery and adventure of museums, and what might lurk around each corner, is their main appeal, said Goldberg. The Lake County Museum accomplishes this and more, through the work of its staff and an even greater number of volunteers. Come springtime, the attic of Lake County will be ready once again to educate through entertainment.

the museum. Goldberg said the museum then plans to move their present postcard exhibit next to the Victorian setting. This exhibit, though, won't be ready for public viewing until May.

For the past five years, the Lake County museum has been cataloging, researching, and informing the public about its Curt Teich postcard collection. It is a vast collection of Lake County postcards which date from the 1890's to the 1960's.

The Regensteiner Corp. furnished the postcards for the museum, and the grant to manage them came from the Curt Teich Foundation. The new postcard exhibit scheduled to premier in May will feature postcards from the 1930's, and how they illustrate the art-deco influence of that time period.

Rock Cut Carnival Has Winter Fun For All

After a hard week's worth of work, many families enjoy being able to pack up the kids and take a day trip—that is, a trip that is long enough to be out of the area, but not so far as to require an overnight stay.

For most, day trips are a matter of impulse. Problem is, when the impulse strikes, information on where to go is often hard to find. Lakeland Newspapers will, when it is available, publish news in the family section of events and places to go when the impulse to wander strikes.

Since we have finally gotten some real snow, the annual Rock Cut Winter Carnival should be a bonanza of fun for parents and kids. Ice and snow sculpting contests, dog sled races, cross country ski races and an ice skating clinic taught by professional skaters are some of the activities planned for the carnival at Rock Cut State Park, just northeast of Rockford on Jan. 17 and 18. Best of all, there is no entrance charge for any of the activities and parking is free.

Activities are planned from noon to 4 p.m. both days. If all the snow should melt before the weekend, alternate dates are Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

Carnival activities are planned to show visitors that "state parks are not only to be used in summer," according to Jim Fulgenzi, conservation department special events coordinator. "A lot of our parks have ice fishing, cross country ski trails, snowmobile trails and sledding. The carnival affords visitors an opportunity to see what's available in our state parks in winter."

The 13.4-kilometer Nordic Cross Country Ski Race is new to the carnival this year. It is sponsored by the Rockford Nordic Ski Club. Scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 17, the race is open to anyone 18 or older. A small entry fee is required for participants to cover insurance costs. For more information, call Mike Armovich of the Nordic Ski Club at (815) 229-0964 or (815) 965-1832.

Dog sled races and pulling contests, sponsored by Midwest Sled Dogs, Inc., officially open the event both days at noon and continue all day. As many as 40 sled dog teams from Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Iowa will compete in the contests. Three-dog, six-dog and eight-dog teams will race and pull in both junior and adult divisions.

At 1 p.m. on Rock Cut's 162-acre Pierce Lake, area rescue squads and diving teams will demonstrate scuba diving through the ice and techniques for rescuing people who've fallen through.

A portion of Pierce Lake will be available for broomball playing at 1:30 p.m. and volunteers from the Rockford Park Dist. will provide novice players with tips on the sport. Broomball, a sort of hockey-soccer hybrid, is played with an inflated ball and old brooms, with players wearing old sneakers instead of ice skates.

From 1:30 to 4 p.m., volunteers will teach the finer points of cross country skiing to interested persons and lead them on a tour of Rock Cut's cross country ski trail. Though ski rentals are available at the park, over 40,000 people are expected to attend so Fulgenzi recommends that skiers bring their own equipment.

Portions of Pierce Lake will be open for ice skating all day both days of the event. From 2 to 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nan Lee Peterson and Charlene Guarano, professional skaters for winter carnivals and the Ice Capades, and Olympic skater Gordie McKellen will conduct an ice skating clinic. Participants must bring their own skates.

An "Anything But A Sled" contest is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on both days. Contestants will go down hills in boxes, bathtubs, just about anything...but a sled. Prizes will be awarded for the smallest, largest, most unique and the entry that goes the farthest.

Forty 400-pound blocks of ice have been ordered for the ice-sculpting contests, which will be judged at 3:30 both days. Dept. of Conservation workers will push snow into large piles for the snow sculpting contest. There is no entry fee, but contestants must bring their own tools.

Free sleigh rides will be offered to transport visitors around the park.

"We try to keep scheduled events to a minimum," Fulgenzi said. "Most of our activities are continuous so visitors can roam through the park at their own pace and see all the carnival has to offer."

The lake will be available for ice fishing both days. Species available in Pierce Lake include largemouth bass, bluegill and northern pike.

The Dept. of Conservation will run a machine that makes building blocks out of snow so that people can make igloos on the lake. A bon fire will conclude the scheduled events on both days.

Fulgenzi advises people to dress in layers - thermal underwear with woolen pants, a woolen shirt, a thermal vest or sweater and covered with a wind-resistant coat. Hats and warm boots and socks are Members of the Rock River Chapter of the American Red Cross will be on hand during the carnival to deal with first-aid ser-

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

Do you know what week it is from Jan. 18 through 24? It's National Pizza Week. Some foods, like hamburgers, hot dogs and pizza cut across socio-economic lines and are popular with all segments of the population. Some people always buy their pizza from a favorite pizzeria, others will settle for frozen pizza, and some daring souls are willing to make their own pizza specialties. Along with this article are two tried and true home pizza recipes that anyone can make.

One Lakeland area pizzaman who has had much success with this gooey dish is Wayne McManus. Twenty-two years ago he made his first pizza in a little shop in Arlington Heights. People like his brand of pizza so well that he has never had to stop.

Today, McManus owns the Antioch Pizza Shop, Wayne's Gurnee Pizza and The Pizza Place in Round Lake Park. Making the perfect pizza, he says, is the art of using all fresh natural ingredients and distributing them evenly. He must know, for though he will not say how many he sells a week, each of his pizzerias are among the most popular in their respective towns.

Winter is a particularly good time for pizza, as people are indoors more watching football, basketball or just visiting for an evening. Saturday nights remain the most popular night to hit the pizza parlor.

In honor of National Pizza Week, we bring you the following trivia and tidbits:

-Wisconsin is the largest producer of Italian cheeses in the U.S., producing over 484 million pounds annually. Nationally, Italian cheese production exceeds 1.3 billion pounds.

-Americans consume an average of 22.5 pounds of pizza a year.

-Pepperoni is the favorite pizza topping because of its hot taste and sweet aftertaste. Anchovies are the least favored.

-Americans prefer thin crust (48 percent) to thick crust (45 percent) pizzas. The remaining seven percent say they like both equally.

-Ninety to 95 percent of all food delivered is pizza. Fifty percent of all pizzerias business is through deliveries.

-The nation's largest user of real mozzarella cheese is none other than Pizza Hut.

-According to the Guinness Book of World Records, the largest pizza measured more than 80 ft. in diameter and weighed 18,664 lbs.

Prepared in 1978 in Oma Pizza Restaurant, Glen Falls, New York, it was cut into 60,318 slices.

-A pizza maker is called a pizzaiollo.

-The original pizza, called Neopolitan, was created in Naples, Italy during the 16th century. It's unlikely that forks were used then, as they were not common in Italy until the 17th century.

-One of America's fastest selling frozen foods is pizza. Frozen Food Age magazine reports that more than $1 billion was spent on some 450 million lbs. of frozen pizza in 1984. Sales are expected to exceed $107 billion by 1993.

-Grandparents consume an average of 3.8 frozen pizzas each annually.

Though pizza got its start in Italy, it took America to make it a phenomenon. So make plans now to celebrate National Pizza Week. The proper celebration requires a sporting event or a night out with the gang and plenty of soda pop or beer to wash down the proper food which should be eaten in celebration. I'd tell you what the proper food is, but you already know that.

Focus On Food

PASTA PIZZA

2 cups uncooked corkscrew macaroni
3 beaten eggs half cup milk half cup shredded cheddar cheese (2 oz.)
fourth cup finely chopped onion
1 lb. lean ground beef
1 15-oz. can tomato sauce
1 tsp. dried basil, crushed
1 tsp. dried oregano, crushed half tsp. garlic salt
1 medium tomato, thinly sliced
1 green pepper, sliced in rings
1 and a half cups shredded mozzarella cheese (6 oz.)

Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain well.

Combine eggs and milk; stir into cooked macaroni. Stir in cheddar cheese and onion; mix well. Spread macaroni mixture evenly over a well-buttered 14-inch pizza pan. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 25 minutes.

Meanwhile, in a large skillet cook ground beef till brown; drain off fat. Stir in tomato sauce, basil, oregano and garlic salt. Spoon meat mixture over baked macaroni crust. Arrange tomato slices and pepper rings over. Sprinkle with mozzarella cheese. Bake about 15 minutes more or till cheese is bubbly. Makes eight servings.

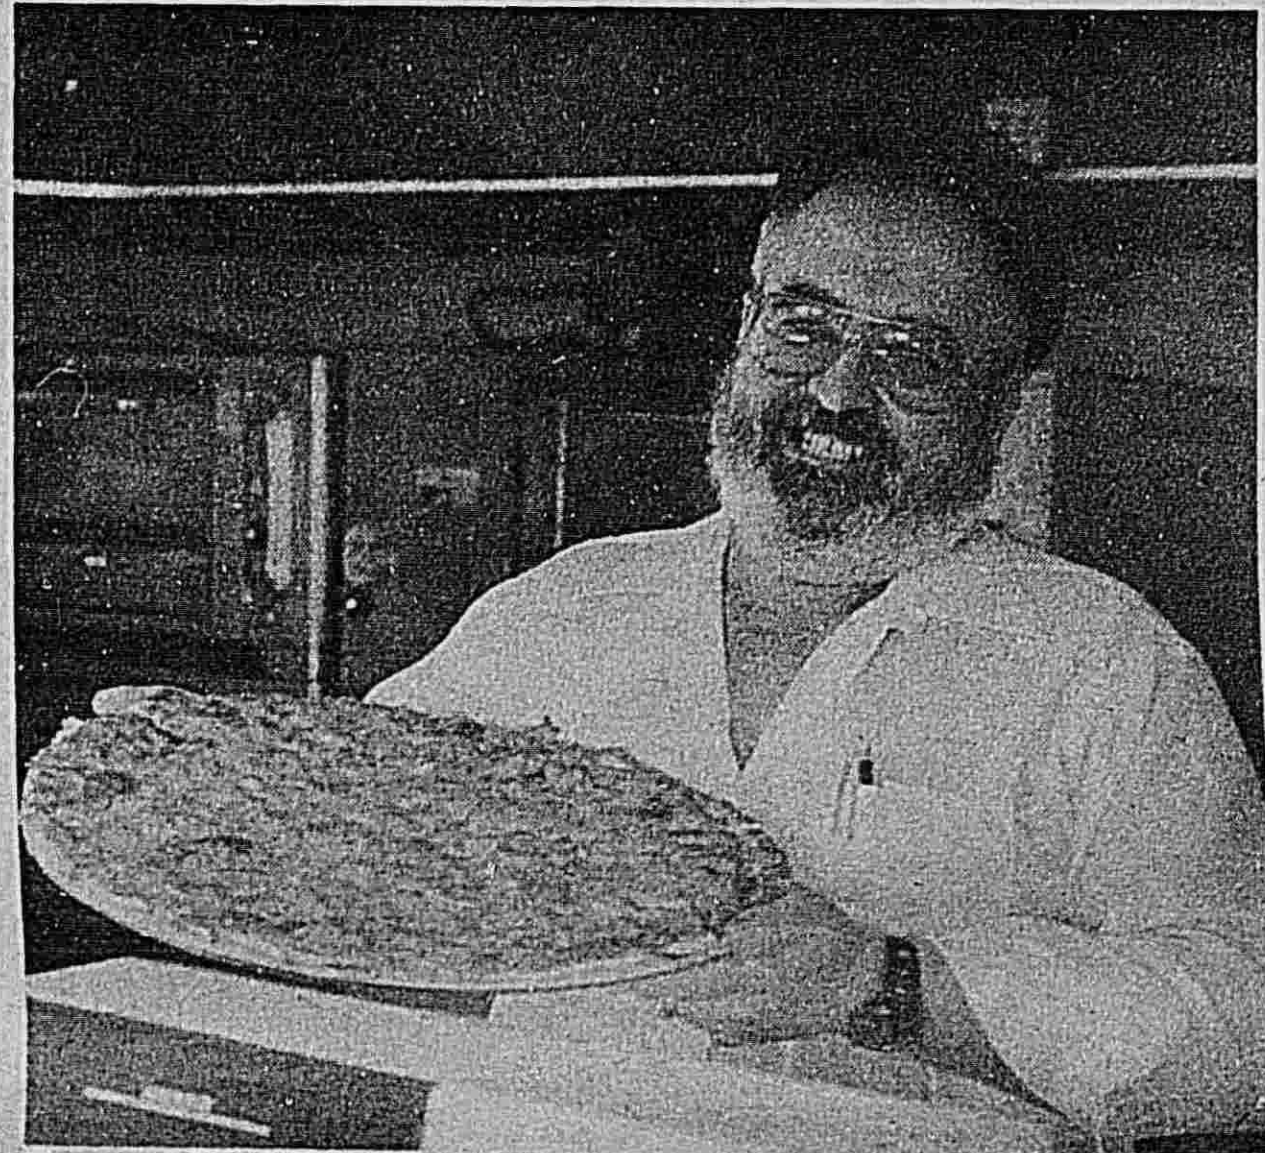

POPOVER PIZZA

1 lb. lean ground beef
1 large onion, chopped
1 15-oz. can tomato sauce half cup water
1 one and five-eighths oz. envelope spaghetti sauce mix one and a half cups shredded mozzarella or provolone cheese (6 oz.)
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 Tbsp. cooking oil
1 cup all-purpose flour half cup grated parmesan cheese

In a large skillet cook the ground beef and onion till the meat is brown and onion is tender. Drain off fat. Stir in the tomato sauce, water and spaghetti sauce mix. Bring to boil. Reduce heat; simmer, uncovered for 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, in small mixer bowl combine eggs, milk and oil. Beat with electric mixer on medium speed till well blended. Add flour all at once, beating till mixture is smooth.

Spoon hot meat mixture into a greased 13X9X2-inch baking dish. Sprinkle the mozzarella or provolone cheese over the meat mixture. Pour flour mixture over cheese, spreading to completely cover filling. Sprinkle parmesan cheese over batter. Bake in a 425-degree oven for 20 minutes or till top is puffed and golden brown. Makes eight servings.

Favorite Pizza Man

One of the most popular pizza chefs in the Lakeland area, Wayne McManus, displays his culinary craftsmanship. McManus owns three local pizzerias; the Antioch Pizza Shop, Wayne's Gurnee Pizza and The Pizza Place in Round Lake Park. He is getting set for a rush on these delightful concoctions of crust, sauce and cheese in honor of National Pizza Week.—Photo by Charles Johnston

Mother Nature Calms Winter Cabin Fever

Winter festivals are touted as sure cures for "cabin fever." One difference this year is the mild weather. It's sort of a "Who needs Florida" syndrome, coupled with "Skiing? What's that?" Cabin fever just does not materialize as rapidly in our surprisingly warm winter. But, Mother Nature is sure to have something for us in her bag of tricks.

Lacking winter, maybe we should seek it. The coldest winter in my recollection was one spent in Bemidji, Minn., where I attended college. That particular winter had a 30-day average of 20 below and was their second most severe on record. Even Paul Bunyan would have had trouble keeping warm that year. Bemidji continues to be a frequent low temperature point in the U.S.

Now Bemidji's a place where cabin fever can be severe. They plan to overcome it in February with a week-long festival starting Friday, Feb. 27. One of the highlights is the March 3 northern version of "Fat Tuesday," a religious holiday celebrated annually in New Orleans. Last year, Bemidjians decided they were the sister city of New Orleans. Why? Because they are the northernmost city on the Mississippi River. With New Orleans as southernmost, they now have "Sister City" status. One of Bemidji's downtown streets becomes Bourbon St. and cajun music, fiddle contests, parades and a Masquerade Ball are highlights that extend into the week.

Information may be obtained by calling the Bemidji Chamber of Commerce, (218)751-3540, but there is yet another way. Contact Bemidji's booth at the Chicagoland Sport Fishing, Travel and Outdoor Show at O'Hare Expo Center, between Jan. 30 and Feb. 8. They are at 2109 Northern Pike St. in the show floorplan.

This is truly a traveler's show and timing is appropriate to make plans for upcoming vacations. Travel booths—385 of them—will offer information on recreational areas, resorts, hotels and lodges. Nearly as many additional displays of sporting equipment, boats and fishing supplies will capture visitor interest. The show will open weekdays from 1 to 10 p.m., Saturdays 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is $5.50; children six to 12 are $2.

They say "You can't have your cake and eat it, too," but if you do, it might be some of the 93-layer chocolate cake created for the fifth annual Great American Chocolate Festival in Hershey, Pa. It will be seen in the lobby of Hotel Hershey, during the Feb. 13-16 festivities. The magic number 93 is to commemorate the 93rd anniversary of Hershey's cocoa, known around the world. Included in the weekend festival is a gay 90s party, Sweetheart Valentine's Day dance, chocolate fashion show, tours and winter activities indoor and out, and the beautiful, ever-present scent of chocolate. For details, call (800)533-3131, or write for festival information, Box BB, Hershey, Pa., 17033.

Marriage

Bailey-Hoffman

Sharla Renee Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bailey of Wauconda, and Derek Matthew Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoffman of Island Lake, were united in matrimony on Sept. 13 at Transfiguration Church, Wauconda. Father Byron Maher officiated.

The bride was given away by her father in the double-ring ceremony.

Matron of honor was Diane Fry Petty, aunt of the bride. Bridesmaids were Karen Fry Payne, cousin of the bride; Debbie Hoffman, sister of the groom; Janis James, Ellen Ahern, and Annette Garcia. Flower girl was Millissa James.

Best man was Darrell Hoffman, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Damon Hoffman, brother of the groom; Dean Ziebel, uncle of the groom; Louie Sharp, Mike McCarren and Chuck Lundgren.

Ushers were Randy Bailey, brother of the bride, and John David Toliver, cousin of the bride.

Following a reception at Hob Nob II in Crystal Lake, the newlyweds took a honeymoon cruise in the Carribean.

Mr. and Mrs. Derek Hoffman

FREE SPINAL EXAMINATION*

The condition of your spine has a direct relationship to your health. The spinal cord is the lifeline of the body. If you are having the sensations of numbness in the hands or feet, electric shock sensations, hot spots, cold spots, constant stinging or even burning, chances are your spine is not in the condition it should be in. These are signs of severe chronic nerve irritation and should be cared for before more serious irreversible complications occur.

Pinched nerves can be the cause of:

1. Headaches
2. Neck Pain
3. Shoulder Pain or Knee Pain
4. Difficulty Breathing
5. Lower Back Pain, Hip Pain, and Pain Down the Legs

*Free examination includes basic history, consultation with the doctor, a posture survey, and 10 orthopedic, neurological tests. X-rays, treatment and laboratory tests are not included.

Wedding Traditions Are Blend Of Old And New

Today, more than ever, traditions are what weddings are made of. Yet, in the 1980s, tradition takes on a whole new meaning. Not only is it a sense of retaining the customs of the past, but also one of incorporating the values and ideals of the present, thus blending traditions in the making with traditions of old.

Though the days are past when Early American newlyweds drank a brew of sack posset and hot spiced milk to give them energy for the night ahead, also gone are the wedding ceremonies of the 1960s and '70s when the time-honored customs and values were tossed to the wind.

Young couples of the '80s have found a comfortable place somewhere in between. While keeping what they find best and most beautiful of past traditions, they add to their weddings personal touches that express their individuality.

For example, today many brides have both father and mother walk them down the aisle so that both parents may enjoy the pleasure and the privilege of "giving away" their daughter.

Other changes in the typical "old-fashioned" wedding include changing ritual phrases such as "love, honor and obey" and "man and wife" so as to be more in keeping with today's ideal of equality.

Carat Weight

A diamond is measured in carats, and there are 100 points in a carat, like cents in a dollar. A carat is equal to one-quarter of a gram and there are 142 carats to the ounce. The larger the diamond, the scarcer it is and the higher the value per carat but, remember that size alone does not determine value. Cut, color and clarity must also be taken into account. For example, a top-color, flawless half-carat diamond will be worth more than a warmer color, flawed one-carat stone.

The Classic Cake

It's easy to create a traditional tiered wedding cake with Wilton pans, separator plates, columns and wedding ornaments.

In present-day ceremonies, one will more often hear "love, honor and cherish" or "husband and wife."

Today's ideas of equality are also bringing the groom more into the limelight. Until recently, all eyes were focused on the bride on her "big day" with the groom himself often feeling like a spectator.

Today's groom, however, is taking on all sorts of new responsibilities such as helping to pick the wedding site, choosing china patterns, addressing invitations, and writing thank-you notes. Some men even wear engagement rings and have showers thrown in their honor.

The question of who pays for the wedding has also been affected by the present day attitude towards equality.

Traditionally, the bride's parents took on most of the expense, but now there is a definite trend towards the groom's family sharing a larger portion of the bill.

Though some of this chipping in reflects the economy, it is also a sign of our times. We no longer consider the bride's parents to be "marrying off" their daughter. Instead, the wedding is seen as a celebration of the joining together of two people.

With fewer of the old-fashioned "rules" of etiquette applying to today's weddings, creative additions to make the occasion unique are unlimited.

They range from substituting carrot cake for the traditional white sponge cake, to honoring the bride or groom's heritage by serving slices of Italian cheesecake or Irish fruitcake.

Music may be as unique as having bagpipes play as the newly-married couple leave the altar.

Brides Are Beautiful But They Need Help

The hall's been reserved, the flowers ordered, gowns fitted and limos rented. The last thing to do is make an appointment to have hair and makeup done on the morning of the wedding. Right?

"Wrong!" says New York hair stylist Charles Nicholas. "The biggest mistake a bride can make is to wait until the last minute to decide on her wedding day hairdo and then end up with a style radically different from her every day look."

For instance, if a girl has straight bangs and hair all one length, she shouldn't suddenly have a mass of curls on her wedding day. People won't recognize her. It's more important to be oneself rather than an actress wearing a wedding gown."

No matter what the style, a head of beautiful, healthy hair is essential, but that takes time. "Two months before the wedding, I would start to get my hair in shape," advises Nicholas, who has styled American and European brides for over 20 years.

"The first step is to select a particularly good shampoo and conditioner system. Then arrange a consultation with a hairdresser. Have one or two cuts by this person so that both of you can gauge exactly when your last cut should be. Notice how soon after a perm, chemical straightening or cut hair is best, then time the final visit accordingly."

The veil is an important factor when choosing a wedding day hairstyle. "The hair should never interrupt the delicate flow of the veil," says Nicholas. "Also important is the height of the groom. We don't want a hairstyle and headpiece that makes the bride taller than the groom."

To prevent a veil or headpiece from falling out of place, try this trick from Nicholas: Make an old-fashioned pincurl with a small lock of hair where the ornament is going to be attached.

Cross two hairpins to hold the curl in place. Then tuck the veil or headpiece's supportive comb inside the curl which acts as an anchor.

It'll support the headpiece throughout the day, leaving the bride free to dance the night away!

Besides getting one's hair in shape, one will want to get skin in excellent condition, especially for all of those wedding photos.

There are a number of ways to deep cleanse for a healthy, clear complexion: a beauty scrub, masque or a steamed towel will do the trick.

Select a scrub or masque formulation that is right for a particular skin type. If using a steamed towel, spray it lightly with a favorite scent for added luxury while relaxing for 15-20 minutes.

Follow with a toner and moisturizer suited to the skin's particular needs.

For the wedding day, choose and apply makeup with extra care. Try for the overall effect of a romantic, sculpted look—high cheekbones against softly hollowed cheeks and full, sensuous lips.

Choose a base that is slightly lighter than one's skin tone as perspiration and oils will cause it to darken as the wedding day goes on, and always blend into the hairline and onto the neck.

Next, use a darker blush for shadowing and a lighter color high on the cheeks to bring out and brighten the eyes, the expressive focal point of the face, especially for photography. Avoid harsh or vivid colors on the wedding day.

Choose eyeshadow, lipstick and blush shades of purple and pink for a softer, prettier effect. One can make eyes look more dramatic simply by adding a little fullness, arch or length to the eyebrow with a thin brush.

A light dusting of loose powder over the entire face will provide an even matte look that will eliminate shininess in photographs. Lastly, pat the face very lightly with a dampened sponge or cotton ball—makeup will look more natural and stay fresh longer.

For the silky feminine hands wanted to show off the beautiful new ring, treat oneself to a relaxing manicure, starting with a rich, creamy hand and body lotion.

One final but most important tip: The excitement and anticipation of the day's festivities may cause one to perspire more heavily—so don't forget to use a feminine yet strong deodorant and antiperspirant. Try one formulated especially for today's woman.

A well-planned beauty routine will give one the confidence and radiance needed to enjoy the big day—relaxed, prepared and looking beautiful.

Weddings

For All Ages

If you believe that you are too old to be married, think again. The oldest bridegroom in history, so far as is known, was Ralph Cambridge, who was 105 when he married his 70-year-old wife in South Africa in 1971.

Simple And Elegant

Cultured pearl jewelry enhances bridal attire. From the Cultured Pearl Assn. of America and Japan, the beautiful choker necklace consists of 6mm perfectly matched gems. Paired with the cultured pearl stud earrings, the jewelry adds a classic finishing touch to the scallop edged open neck gown and headpiece.

Keep Reception Schedule Flexible

by MARK BENNO

Karen Dempsey, banquet manager at the Country Squire restaurant in Grayslake, stresses one important point about planning the reception for a wedding: "Time is valuable."

Dempsey has handled many banquets for the Country Squire, and her experience in the field may prove helpful in the search for a reception facility.

One of the most important things to keep in mind, says Dempsey, is the coordination of the wedding ceremony and reception. Rather than narrowing down possible dates for both the ceremony and reception, one should allow at least a month for unanticipated changes.

Dempsey says that it's common for people to arrange a date with a church only to find that the desired banquet hall has no openings. It makes things much easier when a person can ask for a certain month instead of only one particular day.

Another detail prospective couples must decide upon is an accurate guest list. Dempsey says that when people call with a proposed guest list of 100-200 people, there's no way to help them. She believes a list with a possible error of only 25 is necessary to arrange a banquet hall.

The menu and prices must also be quickly established. It is a waste of time to consider a menu that is too expensive or limited to properly supply the reception party.

Many banquet halls, such as the Country Squire, conduct both the wedding ceremony and reception on their premises. During the summer weddings are often held outside, and in colder months indoors. Having both the ceremony and reception at the same facility could make the planning run more smoothly.

Most banquet halls which furnish wedding receptions are booked about a year in advance. Summer, spring, and fall weddings tend to have longer waiting lists, while winter weddings are generally easier to accommodate. This fact should be considered when planning for a wedding.

Dempsey says, however, that people planning a wedding in less than 10 months time should not give up. Even though some places are booked, a person should still call to make sure, since cancellations are always a possibility. It is also easier to book a hall on short notice when the proposed guest list is relatively small.

According to Dempsey, one valuable tip concerns tentative reservations. She says that there's a lot of people who call to inquire about a date but don't actually reserve it. When one is serious about a certain hall, she suggests making tentative reservations on an open date. Contact the hall within a week after making these reservations to finalize plans.

Harmony

Marriage the happiest bond of love might be, If hands were only joined when hearts agree.

George Granville, Baron Lansdowne

Photo Treasures

The shy, hesitant look of the bride on her wedding day can be caught in a photograph because the professional photographer knows through experience when to look for such expressions.

Pearls Perfect Bridal Jewelry

That magical moment—when all eyes gaze upon the bride as she seems to float down the aisle, is perhaps the most dreamt-about moment in a woman's life.

Throughout the ages, the image of the bride has been of a woman glorified, and her wedding day an occasion when her beauty appears transcendent.

A strand of glowing, cultured pearls lends an air of enchantment to any bridal look, their soft, pure beauty a natural complement to smooth satin and delicate lace.

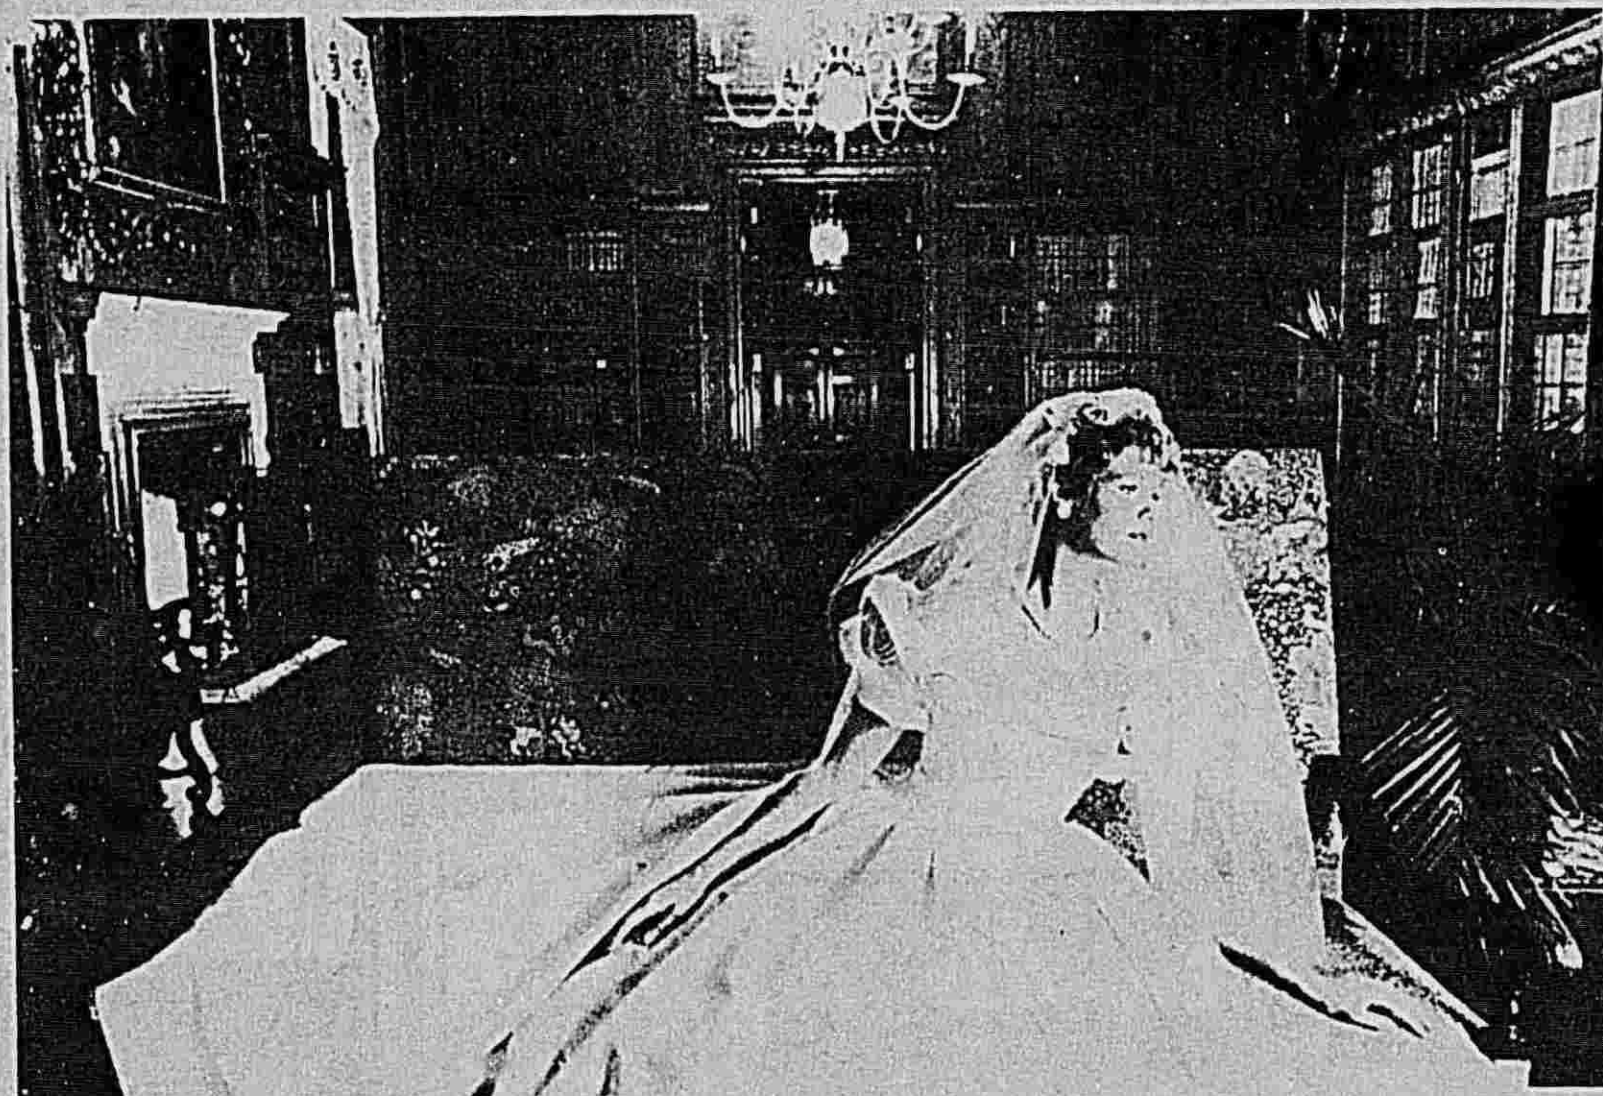

The luminous pearl has cast its spell for centuries as a woman's most precious adornment, its unearthly beauty ever apparent in the magical myths of the ancients.

The goddess of beauty and love, Aphrodite, was believed by the Greeks to have been born like a pearl from a shell carried ashore by the sea.

Roman myth tells that Venus, goddess of love, was born in similarly mystical fashion. And, according to the Roman historian, Suetonius, Julius Caesar invaded Britain so that he might capture a treasure of pearls. Later, he was to present a breast plate, set with pink pearls from the Conway River in Wales, to the goddess Venus Genetrix in her Roman temple.

Royal women have ever sought to enhance their beauty with the creamy richness of cultured pearls.

Sculpted From Heaven

Sculpted from butter-soft silk satin is the Priscilla portrait look. A ruffled stand-up collar framed with abric roses circles the portrait neckline and the puffed-enough sleeves. The molded bodice snugs into a flattering wasp waist. Full skirt sweeps to a chapel train. Band of fabric rosettes with fingertip-length pearl-strewn illusion completes the majesty.

Choosing Right Gown Not Easiest Of Tasks

Why does a woman go through such trouble to find the perfect wedding gown? After all, it's a dress she'll wear only once. But that "once," reminds Bride's magazine, is one of the most important days in her life and she'll want to look her loveliest.

18th Century Gown

White satin wedding gown of the 18th century, worn by socialite Mrs. St. Clair, was trimmed with lace in festooned flounces and edged with silver gimp as was in fashion.

These tips to help the bride-to-be sort through the possibilities and find a dress that's right for her are offered in a recent issue of Bride's:

—Narrow the choice before actually setting foot in the store. First, ask oneself how formal the wedding will be and rule out any dresses that don't match in style.

One way to tell whether a dress is formal is by the fabric. For example, gossamer chiffon might be appropriate for a dinner dance reception while cotton eyelet is pretty at an afternoon garden reception.

Other clues: a lot of lace or pearls and a long train is formal, while a simpler design and very short train is less so.

Next, consider how much one can spend. The average Bride's reader spends about $350 on her dress, but the range of possible prices is from under $100 to $7,000 and up.

Don't worry that a somewhat tight budget will keep you from wearing a favorite style. Classic designs tend to show up in every price range.

Finally, consider the actual specifics of style: neckline, waistline, sleeve shape and length, and color. (There's white, ivory and new pastels such as soft pink, peach, and aqua, alone or combined with white.)

Is there a combination of these fashion points that catches the eye every time? Then this is the basic style to look for.

—Start to actually shop at least six months before the wedding. Most wedding dresses are special-ordered and take a couple of months between order and delivery. And time will be needed for alterations.

To avoid confusing opinions, shop alone, or take just one other person along whose taste is trusted. This could be a mother, sister, best friend or even fiancé.

Plan ahead, then shop prepared. Wear the right underclothes, such as a good bra and long slip. Take along shoes with heels in the height that will be worn on the wedding day.

—When finding the dress, be sure the store consultant takes down all one's measurements. Also make sure she includes the date the dress is needed on the sales slip. This could be up to a full month before the wedding if one wants to wear it for the bridal portrait in the newspaper.

Ask how long it should take for the order to be filled, and if nothing is heard from the store by then, give them a call. Mix-ups are very rare, but it's safest not to take a chance.

—Once the store does notify that the dress is in, make an appointment for a fitting right away. Again, bring the right shoes and undergarments.

Take time and check the fit of the dress in a mirror that lets one see from all angles. Here's what to look for: Is the hem just right, or is there a chance of tripping on it?

Flawless Diamonds

The term flawless refers to a diamond that has no inclusions when viewed under 10-power magnification. There are very few flawless diamonds, therefore such diamonds are expensive.

SHOW HIM A LOOK HE WILL LOVE

Then point the way to over 50 more styles to choose from. He'll love the great selection, and you'll both like the rental cost—far less than you'd expect.

Some Brides Would Do It Differently

by GLORIA DAVIS

No matter how many books on "How To Plan Your Wedding," a bride may read, and no matter how carefully she follows everyone's advice, most brides would do some things a little differently if they had their "druthers."

Mrs. Larry Schiltz of Lindenhurst, who has been married for a little over a year, said, "I think I would make sure that the cocktail hour before the dinner was just that, an hour.

Because the wedding ceremony was over at 3 p.m. and the dinner was not set until 6 p.m., many out of town guests went straight to the reception and started celebrating so early that it ruined the dinner for some." Laura Marino, a Wisconsin bride, said that she would be more careful about looking at the church beforehand.

"The minister told us that there would be no altar to put flowers on and that the pew decorations and candles should be enough to decorate the church," she said.

"When we arrived at the church there was a temporary altar set up that held only two candles and looked very bare. Thank goodness someone had sent me several dozens of roses which were in vases at our new home. A quick gathering up of these put two giant vases of roses on the altar."

Mrs. John Drew of Antioch Twp., a summer 1986 bride, said, "I would be more careful and investigate the place where I rented the tuxedos. The ones we got were ill-fitting and cheap looking, not at all like the smaples we saw, even though they cost over $60 apiece to rent. I felt that the men would have looked better in nice suits."

One bride said that she would use silk flowers for hers and her bridesmaid's bouquets instead of real ones if she were to do it again.

"We used white roses which didn't hold-up at all. I was in a girlfriend's wedding two weeks later and I still have the silk bouquet I carried and it looks just as good as it did before the wedding."

Joan Jason from just outside of Wildwood, who was married for two years and is the process of getting a divorce said, "I certainly wouldn't spend the thousands of dollars my parents did even if I were to married for the first time."

Weddings Need Timetable

Ready for the countdown? The following gives one a general time schedule for the many things one has to do for a wonderful wedding, a memorable reception.

Six months before:

Discuss wedding budget with parents; if sharing expenses, include fiancé and his parents.

Select wedding and reception sites.

Determine number of guests.

See clergyman or judge with fiancé.

Talk to caterer, discuss reception, make reservations.

Plan do-it-yourself reception menu, if not using caterer.

Order dress, accessories.

Begin guest list, choose attendants.

Register for china, silver, etc.

Discuss honeymoon plans.

Plan new home, shop for it.

Choose ushers, one for every 50 guests.

Three months before:

Complete guest list.

Order invitations and announcements (allow four weeks for printing.)

Start addressing on receipt.

Order attendants' dresses, confirm delivery of bride's.

Select portrait photographer and videographer.

Plan ceremony, reception details with organist, florist, etc.

Finalize decision on caterer.

Completes honeymoon plans, buys tickets, updates passports.

Buy groom's, attendants' gifts.

Mail invitations.

Order groom's ring.

Arrange lodging for out-of-town guests.

Plan maids' luncheon, rehearsal dinner.

Write thank-you notes for gifts.

Arrange newspaper announcement.

Couples Decide On Rings First

The first major decision facing the newly-engaged couple is the selection of an engagement ring, usually shortly followed by a wedding ring.

Jewelers of America (JA), the national association representing more than 12,000 retail jewelers across the country, offers some tips that are designed to help a couple pick the rings that fit the future bride's finger and future groom's budget.

According to National Jeweler, a trade publication, today's engaged couples continue the tradition of solitaire diamonds, but they are combining them with romantic contemporary settings.

Round stones still lead in popularity, but the use of "fancies" such as marquises and pears, followed by ovals and emerald-cut stones, is increasing.

The bigger the stone, the simpler the setting should be. Conversely, the smaller the center stone, or solitaire, the more elaborate the setting can be.

Some of the smaller fancy-shaped diamonds, in openwork freeform settings, give the illusion of a bigger stone, and a more important ring, while keeping the price levels down.

All-yellow gold remains the favorite, but new finishes and color combinations are making fashion news. Two-tone textural treatments, combining mirror finishes with sand-blasted, florentine, brushed and pebbled surfaces, are all available.

A new item: refined nugget designs, offering the rich coloration of gold with an irregular surface.

Younger couples prefer romantic designs, featuring hand-cut flowers and leaves, continuous hearts, braided and love knot motifs. Interlocking sets of engagement and wedding rings which can be worn separately or as a unit, look most appealing with softer, more flowing lines.

Couples embarking on their second trip to the altar frequently eliminate the traditional engagement ring in favor of a more costly wedding ring, often embellished by diamonds.

For this most important choice, it is vital to deal with a local jeweler who not only offers a wide selection of styles and price ranges, but is also an expert who can give advice and service.

For example, if a ring or piece of jewelry belonged to a parent or grandparent, a jeweler can make it in to a "today" style for them.

Finally, the jeweler who has become an advisor will also be around in the future for service. One can turn to him for repairs, or, as the years pass, one may want to hand the ring down to a newly-engaged child. This jeweler will be there to help.

The Hallmark

A law was passed in 14th century England whereby a silversmith was obliged to leave a mark on all his wares identifying them as made by him. His personal mark was assigned to him by the king. These marks were called hallmarks because all silver articles were assayed and marked at the London's Goldsmiths' Hall.

Diamond Flush

The diamond solitaire in every shape and size is the overwhelming favorite with 69 percent of brides who receive a diamond engagement ring. Clockwise from top, the oval diamond; the marquise diamond; the round diamond; the emerald-cut diamond. In the center is the heart-shaped diamond.

The Bride's Father

As they stroll proudly down the aisle his mind races to earlier years.

When she used to skin her knees and he wiped away her tears.

Where did those tender days go?

Is she ready for a new stage of life?

And what about that cavalier young man,

Is he ready for a wife?

This time he'll give her up for good,

not just a Saturday night.

He hopes that all her needs are met and that this bond of love is right.

There's so much that she'll have to learn when the ups and downs get rough.

Like patience and forgiveness and he hopes she'll have enough.

They're almost at the end of the aisle, it went by much too fast.

He needed hours more than this to fondly remember the past.

She's letting go of his arm now and the feeling tugs at his heart.

But he knows that even a husband's love will never replace his part.

He's done his best to let her grow and played the role of guide.

She'll be his daughter forever

so today she can be the bride.

The Best Way To Party Is With Some Bubbly

The oldest symbol of love, unity and celebration is the raising of glasses for a warm toast to the happiness of the bride and groom.

But, if sharing special moments with family and friends--intimate parties and champagne occasions--are taking too big a bite out of the over-all wedding budget, everyone can celebrate by popping the cork with an affordable alternative--imported sparkling wine.

Wine has been associated with love since the early Roman times; therefore, there's no need to diminish the budget with expensively-priced champagnes.

Champs D'Ore, a sparkling dry white wine from France, is a perfect alternative. It adds excitement to every occasion once the cork pops and the bubbles rise.

To make wedding celebrations memorable, try these entertaining and serving suggestions from the sparkling wine experts at Victory Imports.

Sparkling wine should be served in fluted or tulip shaped glasses. Air is the worst enemy of a sparkling wine's bubbles; the narrower the opening, the longer the bubbles will last.

Saucer shaped glasses should be saved for still table wines. If used for sparkling wine, they cause the bubbles to dissipate rapidly because they expose so much of the wine to the air.

Once poured, one can "dress up" the wine itself in the glass. Freeze strawberries, cherries or blueberries in ice cubes made from orange, cranberry or lime juice and place these in the wine.

'Dynasty' Tuxedos Lead Pack

by GLORIA DAVIS

With "Dynasty" keeping the nighttime soap opera fans glued to their tv sets every week, featuring dapper gentlemen in tuxedo garb at almost every occasion, it is a natural for Gingiss Formalwear Center to feature the "Dynasty Collection."

According to a representative of Gingiss in Waukegan, at 2201 Grand Ave., has been outdistancing by far all of their other tuxedo styles that are being rented for weddings and other special occasions.

The most popular, an exclusive in the Waukegan area, is the "Sharkskin Dynasty," a medium grey tux with pleated pants.

The grey "Carrington", the "Black Diamond" and the "Ivory Dynasty" are all getting a big rental play that is expected to continue through the spring and summer wedding season.

The Waukegan Gingiss is also in the process of expanding its stock on cummerbunds and ties that match bridesmaid dresses.

This use, to tie the outfits worn by the wedding party together, is especially popular when the groom and his groomsmen wear the ivory or all white tuxedos.

All tuxes available are ready and in stock and Gingiss also carries a complete line of gifts for the groomsmen. If there are five or more tuxes rented for the wedding party, the groom receives his free of charge.

Tuxedo Still Going Strong

The tuxedo was "born" at the first Autumn Ball in October, 1886, when young Griswold Lorillard, son of Pierre V., wore the tailless dress coat to this grand ball of the societal resort area of Tuxedo Park, N.Y.

At this time, Tuxedo Park, 40 miles northwest of New York City, overlooking Tuxedo Lake, was an elite hunting and fishing resort, known as the millionaire's haven.

Lorillard, the fashion maverick, shocked the society circle, when he sported the tailless coat to the Tuxedo Park Club's white-tie-and-tails Autumn Ball.

There are tales that the coat worn by Griswold (Grizy for short) was designed by his father and was a scarlet satin-lapelled affair which was tailored, if not tailed, along the lines of the pink coats worn by hunters riding to hounds.

The tuxedo was not an instant success, yet it was not without its admirers. Traditionalists adopted a condescending attitude toward the innovation, regarding it as semi-formal evening attire.

The tuxedo came in two styles: with a shawl collar and satin-faced lapels, and with peaked lapels.

Tips On Toasting Newlyweds

—DECIDE WHAT TO SERVE. First, pick a drink for toasting. Champagne is a wedding classic, but many marriages have been saluted with sparkling cider, bubbling punch or white wine.

Next, decide whether to offer this beverage alone throughout the reception or also have an open bar. It will depend largely on the type of party you have—an afternoon cake and punch reception doesn't call for anything else while an evening dinner dance might.

SAMPLE EVERYTHING AHEAD OF TIME. Especially try out the punch (a great-sounding recipe may not turn out exactly as you'd hoped). It should be ice cold and not too sweet to go best with the cake.

DETERMINE HOW MUCH YOU'LL NEED. You can make sure the drinks last as long as the festivities by counting on each guest having two drinks the first hour, one more every hour after that. Generally, the later in the day the reception, the more guests will drink.

PLACE DRINK TABLES STRATEGICALLY so that drinkers and non-drinkers mix easily. Have waiters circulate with drink choices—or have both alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages at all serving points.

KEEP A CLEAR HEAD—and make sure guests do too. Ask the bartender to "mix light" when he feels it's necessary. Serve some food—perhaps finger sandwiches or hot hors d'oeuvres—to curb the effect of the alcohol. Be sure to offer plenty of good strong coffee before guests head homeward.

Incidentally, says Bride's, a couples' wedding is only the first of many "toasting" occasions to come. They can prepare from now to celebrate their first anniversary or new home by asking for wine and spirits as wedding presents. It's made easy by the new liquor gift registries popping up in liquor stores around the country.

Through these registries, couples can list their favorite brands of liquor and wine for guests to select from—in much the same way that they register for china or silver at their local department store.

Antebellum Tradition

Travel back to the past and play Scarlett O'Hara to your groom's Rhett Butler in this antebellum-inspired gown of sheer polyester, impeccably designed with a sense of American heritage. Scallop lacing trims the stand-up collar and Schiffli embroidered net with frolicking flounce adorns the yoke. This traditional style bursts with modern vitality from a cascading baby lace ruffled hemline, highlighted by bow accents at the side which form the chapel train.

Comfortable Shoes, Happy Bride

On a wedding day, one should take into consideration two very important items—the feet. Since they'll be on them most of the day, comfortable shoes are a must. Tired aching feet will only make for an uncomfortable bride.

But wanting comfort doesn't have to mean forsaking style. Shoes should be the finishing touch on the beauty of the dress.

For stylish comfort, think pumps. "Classic white pumps give the allure of simple elegance and gracefulness yet give sturdy support," says Steve Cassidy, women's dress shoe buyer for Kinney Shoes.

From the newer low-heeled versions to the traditional high, there is a pump suitable for everyone. And a pair of white pumps will be a staple in any wardrobe on the honeymoon and all through spring and summer.

If one doesn't wear high heels everyday, don't wear them on the wedding day. There are many low-heeled and flat styles that can complete any look. If opting for high heels, make sure the fit is right. Here are some guidelines to follow when shopping for those special shoes:

Have both feet measured; the two are not identical.

Accomodate the larger foot, and if necessary, alter the fit of the other shoe.

Shop after being on the feet awhile, not in the early morning.

Wear hosiery similar to that being worn on the wedding day.

After both shoes are on, wiggle the toes, walk on tiptoe and arch the feet. Sit down. Walk again. If the shoes don't fit now, don't count on breaking them in.

Use a full-length mirror to see how the shoes will look to others.

Cost Of Wedding Can Be Split By Families

It's traditional in the U.S. for the parents of the bride to cover the entire cost of a couple's wedding. But according to a recent article in Bride's magazine, this situation is changing.

For the first time, there's a definite trend toward the sharing of wedding expenses. The groom's family, as well as the bride and groom themselves, are taking on a chunk of the financial responsibility.

One reason for this may be changing attitudes toward the nature of marriage. In this era of liberation, a bride's parents are no longer considered to be "marrying off" their daughter. Rather, the wedding is seen as the joining of two people, and two families, with everyone contributing to the festivities.

A second reason is frankly economic: The cost of a formal wedding these days runs on average around $4,350, according to a Bride's reader profile study. It can go as high as $10-$15,000 in some urban areas.

Rather than cut back on their idea of the perfect celebration, many couples and their families are instead finding new ways to meet the expenses.

Especially where the bride and groom are on their own and earning money themselves (increasingly common as the average age for marriage goes up), it only makes sense for them to pitch in.

The actual dividing up of the costs can be done in several ways. An easy, tactful method is to settle on specific expenses in advance, rather than to just split the cost of the whole wedding down the middle.

An alternate idea would be for one family to pay for the ceremony (flowers, church rental, limousines), the other to pick up the reception tab. Each family then has complete jurisdiction over their part of the celebration.

There are many possible arrangements and the options should be discussed openly and early in the engagement so an agreeable plan can be worked out.

Incidentally, the idea of sharing wedding expenses is not really a new one. In many countries the practice has been followed for centuries. For instance, Spanish fathers of the bride and groom traditionally issue the invitation and host the wedding together.

Home Parties Supply New Bridal Registering

Wedding bells will ring for more than 2.5 million couples this year in the U.S. and cash registers will ring up the sales of tens of millions of engagement, shower and wedding gifts purchased by friends and relatives.

In fact, Americans made such purchases last year to the tune of nearly $14 billion, spending an average of several hours shopping for each gift.

One way to make shopping for wedding-related gifts a breeze is for the bride-to-be to register her choices.

Commonly done through the bridal registry of a retail store, there is now an alternative that is more personal, convenient and entertaining. The new twist is to register choices—crystal, china, kitchen products—with independent consultants of home party firms.

The process is very simple. Just review the products in the company's catalog or actual samples and then list desired items on a special bridal registry form.

Best of all, this can be done in the home, away from the bustle of a crowded store, and at a time that is convenient for both the prospective bride and the salesperson who does not have dictated "store" hours.

With this approach, a gift can be purchased and given in a party atmosphere.

There are several formats for selling home party products to friends and relatives of the bride-to-be. The bride can either register her selections before the party or at the party. If the bride registers prior to the party, there are two approaches.

At one, guests can order registered products from a catalog prior to the shower in the comfort of their own home. The sales consultant places the order, wraps and delivers all items to the party site. The bride-to-be then opens the gifts at the party.

Or, the consultant can demonstrate the bride's registered items to guests who then order their gifts directly at the party. The gifts are delivered to the bride-to-be's home a week or so after the party.

If the bride has not registered before the party, she can make her selections at the party.

As with any party, the hostess is key to the success of the party. She is the person who invites the guests, keeps close watch of what is ordered and registers all orders on the bride's list.

Give Tips On Planning A Perfect Honeymoon

When planning a trip, start with a good travel agent. They can be a big help by arranging ground transportation, sightseeing tours, theater tickets and providing information about currency, passports, good restaurants and points of interest.

Whether one will be enjoying country comforts or big-city living, there are many considerations when choosing a place to stay.

--Is it located near the places both want to go?

--How far from the airport is it and how will the honeymooners get there?

--Does the place you've chosen offer any special honeymoon packages?

--Are there sports facilities available that coincide with the couple's interests?

--Be aware of what papers (passport, visa) and immunizations may be needed.

--Will credit cards be accepted in the area being traveled to?

In order to be helpful, your travel agent should know the budget, when time has been set aside, and how much, the type of experience the couple is looking for and things the two enjoy doing together. Remember to be open to suggestions—the couple may get a pleasant surprise.

Groom Often Has Some Important Questions

Who pays for the wedding? What are the duties of the Best Man? What should I wear to be correctly attired?

Those are but a few of the questions which may puzzle prospective bridegrooms. Most of the answers to those questions have pat answers, many of them having been handed down from antiquity, others being relatively modern in conception.

The American Formalwear Assn., being expert on the rules and mores of weddings and their attendant rules and obligations, has compiled a list of the most often asked questions by grooms and the AFA has supplied the answers that currently apply to them.

Some who can afford it go to wedding counselors to find out what to wear, what to do and how to do it. The following will answer most, if not all, of the questions that the average groom may pose:

Men's Bracelets More Popular

Bracelets were once an indispensable part of every well-dressed man's attire, worn by everyone from King Tutankhamun to Shakespeare. Now that men are rediscovering their jewelry heritage, bracelets are back in a big way.

Wrist chains with bold, interesting links are among the most popular styles. The identification bracelet, in-

Q.: Who or what decides if the wedding is to be formal, semiformal or informal?

A.: Those decisions are usually up to the bride, and are often determined by the choice of gown that she wears and the site of the ceremony.

If she wears a long gown with a train, the ceremony is definitely formal. If the bride elects to wear only a veil with her gown, the ceremony can be considered to be semi-formal.

Q.: If the wedding is formal, what do I wear?

A.: In the daytime, a cut-away coat and striped trousers. However, in some contemporary weddings the groom will wear a white tailcoat, but traditionalists hold out for the gray cut-away.

For a contemporary evening formal ceremony, the groom may wear a black or white full dress (tailcoat), while the traditionalist will wear the classic white tie and tails.

Q.: If the wedding is semiformal, what do I wear?

For a contemporary daytime wedding, a tuxedo of one's choice or an updated stroller.

For a traditional evening ceremony, a black tuxedo or a white dinner jacket. For a contemporary evening wedding, a tuxedo of one's choice.

Q.: What do my ushers or groomsmen wear?

A.: In a traditional ceremony, the same as the groom, with the exception of the boutonniere which in the groom's case should be a sprig of lily-of-the-valley from the bride's bouquet.

In a contemporary wedding, the groomsmen may dress a "step down" from the groom, i.e., if the groom wears a tailcoat, the groomsmen may wear a short coat.

Q.: What do the fathers of the bride and groom wear?

A.: The same rules apply to the fathers as to the ushers and groomsmen.

Q.: Do I give a present to the bride?

A.: As a rule, the gift of the wedding ring is considered to be sufficient. However, there is no rule against offering her a further token of one's devotion.

Q.: Do I owe a gift to any of the wedding members?

A.: Yes. Some small gift should be made to the ushers or groomsmen. Dress studs, cuff links, pocket jewelry or the like is appropriate. Those gifts serve as mementos of the occasion.

Q.: Who decides on the type, place and length of the honeymoon?

A.: Those decisions should be made by agreement between the bride and the groom. Its type is usually determined by financial capabilities and the available time for the trip.

Q.: Who provides the bride's bouquet?

A.: The groom buys his bride's bouquet and also the usher's boutonnières.

Q.: Who pays for the honeymoon?

A.: The groom!

Q.: Who gives the honorarium to the officiating reverend or judge?

A.: The groom.

Q.: Who pays for the rental of formalwear?

A.: The groom and the members of the wedding each pay for their own.

Q.: Who pays for the wedding?

A.: The bride's family.

Q.: What are the duties of the Best Man?

A.: The Best Man attends the groom prior to ceremony, hands him the ring to place on the bride's finger during the ceremony and offers the first toast to the bride and groom at the reception.

He also reads, to all assembled, any and all congratulatory messages sent to the bride and groom at the reception.

Q.: If I am a member of the military, is it correct for me to be married in uniform?

A.: In the U.S., one usually only wears a uniform if in active service.

The Wedding Party

American weddings: it's everyone's moment to celebrate, including Yves St. Laurent and Bill Blass, two of America's premier men's formalwear designers who have joined to create this totally coordinated formal wedding. The groom wears YSL's double-breasted dinner jacket; his men, Bill Blass' classic white shawl collar dinner jacket. All the gowns by Alfred Angelo.

Research Ancient Customs

Today's wedding ceremonial traditions are a unique blend of many national customs, some dating back from centuries ago.

Today, a bride may sign an ancient marriage contract originally devised by Anglo-Saxons. She may walk down the aisle in a Gothic Cathedral to Richard Wagner's Lohengrin.

The bride may wear a medieval veil, a Jewish coronet made of Pagan orange blossoms and her wedding ring may be of Roman descent.

During the ceremony, if she kneels at the altar, she will be following the custom of ancient Egyptian brides.

The following are a few more explanations of the rituals we follow today and their origins.

According to the ancient Romans, weddings are held in June, partially because of the warm weather, but more importantly because May was considered an unlucky month.

Today's tradition of exchanging wedding bands is a throwback to the medieval times when people wore signet rings to put their seal on agreements.

When the newlyweds depart after the wedding celebration they still pretend to flee, as though the irate brothers and fathers were still chasing after them.

During the most primitive times, men acquired their wives by stealing them, and then hiding them until the families' anger was lessened by the passing moons. This time when the couple was in hiding was sweet, which is why the period after the wedding is still called the "honeymoon."

Sleek Sophistication Look Of 1987's Bride

Many of the prospective Lake County brides that are planning spring and summer weddings really don't want to look like everyone's image of the typical bride, that's why the three S's are what 1987's weddings are all about.

"I want something sleeker, something a little more sophisticated, yet soft" is a request often heard at Milady's Bridal in Bannockburn.

One of the answers is this year's slim bridal sheath with a detachable train. The growing popularity of the t-length wedding and attendants' gowns is another and the rich creamy glow of a bridal gown done in ivory or candelight lace is yet a third answer to eliminating the "Princess For a Day" look that has reigned over the bridal market for many years.

In fact, Lisa Lee of Milady's tells us that, though all wedding dresses come in both ivory and white, they sell more of the softer color because its more flattering to the average girl.

"The A-symmetrical look is also very popular this year," added Lee, describing a bodice with a right side done in one-fourth inch diagonal tucks that turns into three-fourth-inch tucks on the left side. The beading motif is also different on each side of the bodice.

Wide, shoulder and collarbone revealing necklines lead the bridal fashion parade in both wedding and bridesmaids' gowns with the on-or-off the shoulder gown much in demand.

"This is because many churches don't allow off the shoulder gowns, but the girls want them, this way they can wear them up for the wedding and off the shoulder for the reception," said Lee.

Attendants' gowns in taffeta and "any shade of pink from a soft shell pink to a deep magenta or shocking pink, will be this season's most popular color," predicts Lee.

Shades of lavender and blue are also on the favorites list, and peach, the most popular color a decade ago, as making a comeback.

The cool shades of the attendants' dresses are geared to go with the grays and blacks, still the most popular colors in the tuxes to be worn by the groomsmen. But with peach reentering the scene, the cream tux, or "peaches and cream" combination, might be the season's dark horse.

There is usually little separation between what is popular in one category of fashion and its relation to another fashion category or even to home decorations.

The new look in bridal headgear is called the pouff, this describes the very popular puffy cloud of veiling that swirls like a cloud around the bride's head, pouring from all sorts of bridal toppers, from Juliet caps, to floral wreaths, to crowns, making the bride seem taller and more regal and ethereal.

But no matter what style she has chosen to wear, or what she crowns herself with, all of 1987's brides will be beautiful, its guaranteed.

Silver Has A History

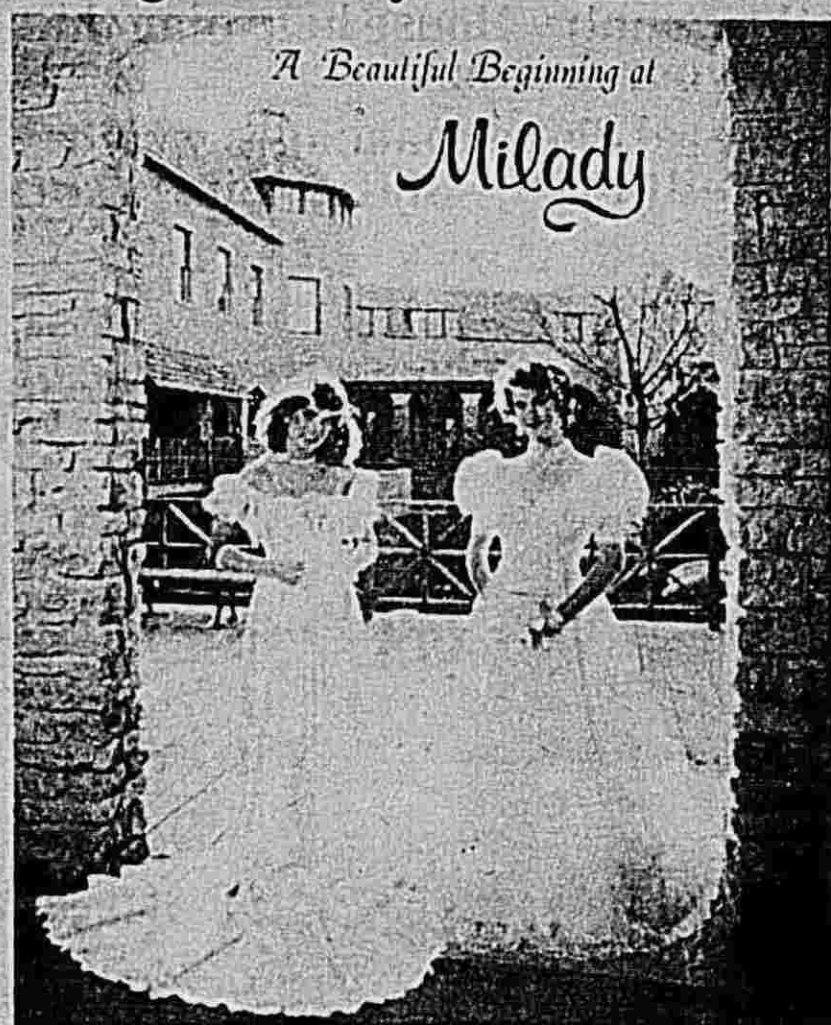

Prior to the 19th century, silver in America was a made-to-order business conducted by the town's silversmith. Customers sought him out for specific silver articles.

Samuel Kirk & Sons founded the first silversmithing firm in Baltimore, Md., in 1815.

The hunt for a substitute for sterling silver led to the discoveries of the alloys, Britannia Metal and German Silver.

The process of electroplating, discovered in England, was brought to the attention of the Rogers Brothers of Connecticut. In 1847 they began to produce plated ware.

ARIES

(March 21-April 20)

Keep up with health tips and don't go overboard where food is concerned. You need to keep in shape for the future. A good friend will be in touch regarding money.

TAURUS

(April 21-May 20)

Your finances are in for a change. Persuade someone to give you a helping hand where money is concerned. Do the best you can for the time being.

GEMINI

(May 21-June 20)

A friend in need is a friend indeed. Be on the giving end of a relationship for a change. Surprise gifts are in store from one who is rarely heard from.

CANCER

(June 21-July 22)

Surprises are in store, of the romantic kind, so be prepared for a whirlwind romance this week. If you are attached, expect a change for the better in your relationship.

LEO

(July 23-Aug. 22)

VIRGO

(Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Your desire for privacy may be denied for a while longer. Be on your toes where gossip is concerned. You could be asking for trouble if you get involved with a situation.

LIBRA

(Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

A romance could hurt your reputation and a chance to succeed businesswise. Be optimistic about the future when you are faced with terrible odds.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 23-Nov. 22)

A new love is about to enter your life without warning. You will be amazed at how wonderful life can be with someone you can share all your ideas with.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

If you are ready for a change, now is the time to get on with your life. You could be facing an important decision concerning one who has been devoted to you.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Secret feuds are about to erupt for the better. Bring things out into the open at work; otherwise you could be looking for a new job.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

While visiting this week, you may want to share good will with those less fortunate.

PISCES

(Feb. 19-March 20)

A return to norm is the theme this week. You will sign for something important to your well-being and that may be a document freeing you from a past obligation.

Consumers Fear Not. Oil Prices To Stabilize

Consumers and business owners: Fear not. Despite recent rises in the price of oil, worries about oil-fired inflation are unfounded.

For one thing, OPEC has been given too much credit for the slight price increases; OPEC no longer has the stranglehold on the market that it once had. The oil-producing sectors of most industrialized countries have supported the current price rise, putting nearly everyone in the act. In fact, the price of oil from the OPEC states is now stable, while the price of U.S. oil is increasing.

OPEC's agreements to cut production by more than seven percent this month is tentative at best. Even if quotas are adhered to in principle, industry analysts suspect that some OPEC members might cheat and produce more oil than they agreed, in order to garner extra cash.

Increased production from the industrialized countries, resulting from the price hikes, should help keep the supply up and prices under control. For this reason, the price of oil and other energy sources should remain generally stable for the next three to five years.

If oil settles at $18 a barrel—its approximate current level—exploration will continue, bolstering both oil reserves and the economies of the oil-producing states.

Due to the present price increases, we can look forward to slightly higher gasoline and heating oil prices this winter. However, it will still be about 35 percent cheaper to heat your home this winter than it was last year.

The week in review.

Investments: Interest rates on the trading markets are already recovering from their last-week-of-the-year jumps. By Jan. 6, yields on Treasury instruments were back to where they were before Christmas.

Interest rates on savings certificates at the nation's banks and savings and loan associations moved slightly higher or showed no movement this week.

Approximately four percent of the institutions polled raised their six-month CD yields, and four percent lowered yields. (The pricing committees of the rest must have been on vacation.)

On five-year CDs, nine percent of the institutions lowered their rates, and one percent hiked rates.

Loans: Lenders are anticipating a flood of mortgage applications, as the February home-buying season nears. As a result, mortgage interest rates edged upward.

Tax Reform Takes Bite Out Of Second Home Rentals

by GARY S. MEYERS

If you are a real-estate investor who is planning to rent out your cabin in the mountains or your condo on the beach in 1987, tax reform may be sending you an avalanche—or a tidal wave—depending on your location.

"Tax reform will be a burden for owners and would-be buyers of vacation properties," said Elliott Hechtman, president of Holiday Condominiums, a national clearinghouse for resort property sales and rentals.

Tax experts say that the new tax law will have little effect on people who purchase a vacation home primarily for their own use, because the key deductions for mortgage interest and real-estate taxes on second residences are still intact. However, investors who purchase a second home and choose to rent it out for part of the year may feel the bite of higher taxes, depending on their income and the amount of deductible losses they claim.

"The tax breaks are gone for wealthier second-home buyers," said Merlin Widick, president of Cunningham/Widick Realty Investor Services Co., a Telluride, Colo., development firm.

The key change in the law affects so-called "passive investors," phasing out provisions that had permitted upper-bracket taxpayers to write off maintenance, depreciation and other expenses associated with real property.

Under tax rules, most owners of vacation property who rent their units are classified as "passive investors"—meaning they are not involved on a regular, continuous and substantial basis in the management of their property.

Tax reform says that passive investors may not deduct losses from real estate (or other properties) against other income, such as salary, interest, dividends and active business income. Under the old rules, such deductions were the cornerstone of most tax shelters—enterprises designed to "lose money" on paper, enabling the investor to write off a large amount of his actual, "active" income. These rules can penalize not only direct owners of vacation property, but also time-share owners and those who own properties in rental pools.

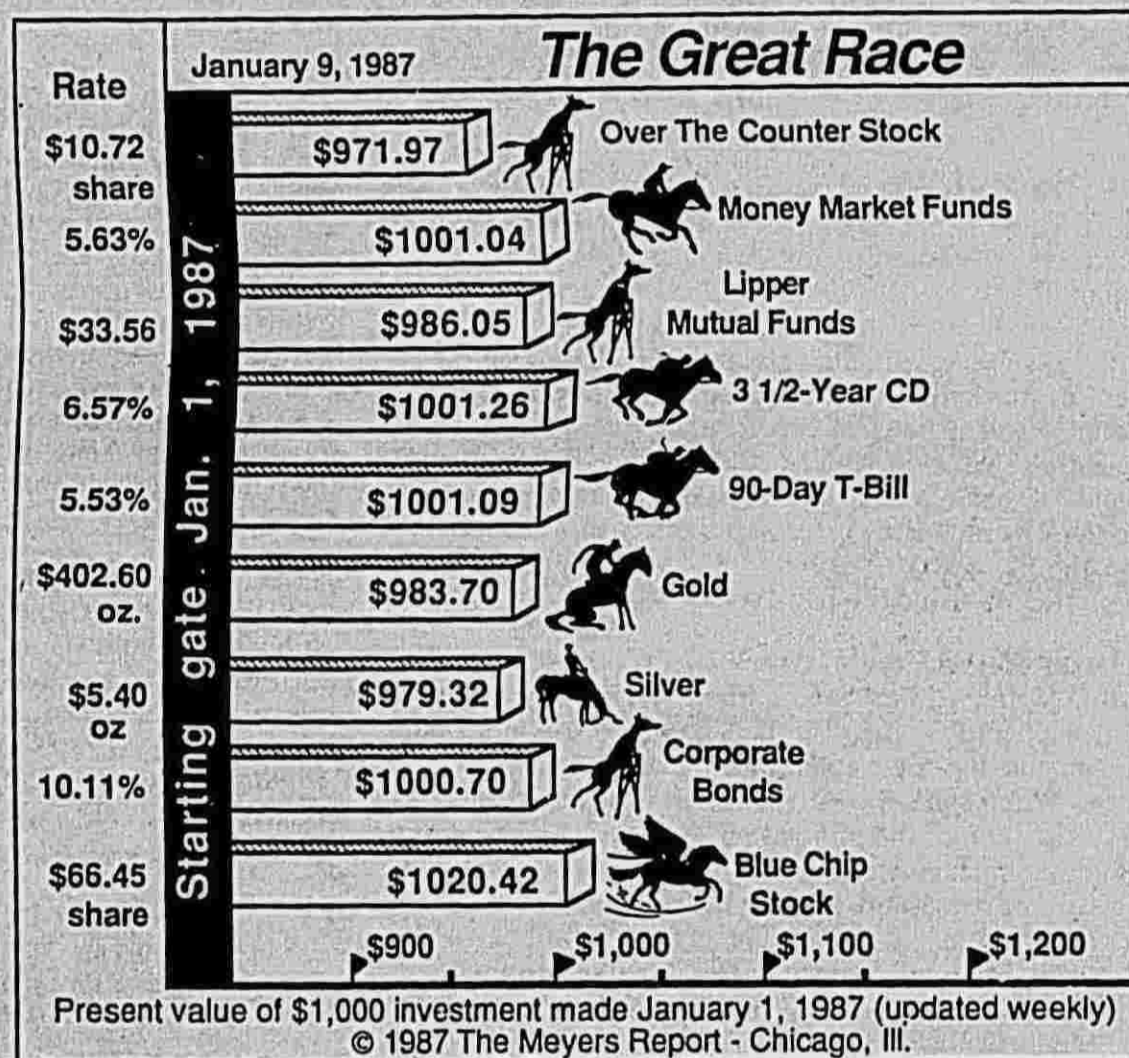

However, there is at least one loophole left for second-home owners under tax reform. Those who earn $100,000 or less a year can rent out their residences and write off up to $25,000 in annual losses—but only if they actively participate in the leasing and management of the dwelling. If you earn more than $100,000 annually, the $25,000 loss allowance is reduced by 50 percent of any income over the $100,000 mark.

For example, if you earn $120,000—$20,000 over the income limit—your loss allowance would be cut from $25,000 to $15,000. Second-home owners who earn more than $150,000 a year will not be able to take any losses.

To ease the pain to the new rules on passive-investment write-offs, those who owned property before the new law was enacted will get a phase-in period. Regardless of other limitations in the law, those with such property will be allowed to take at least 65 percent of any possible loss against active income in 1987; 40 percent in 1988; 20 percent in 1989; and 10 percent in 1990. The write-off limitations will take full effect in 1991.

Investors who plan to rent their second homes also will be affected by a new, longer depreciation schedule. Investors in residential real estate—defined partly as properties rented for 30 days at a time or longer—will be required to depreciate their property on a 27½-year schedule, instead of the current 19-year schedule. Owners of some properties rented for periods of less than 30 days will have to depreciate on a 31½-year basis; this is the same period allowed under the old law.

Premier Merges With Michigan Group

Affiliation of the Premier banking group of northern Illinois with a Michigan holding company will be little noticed by the public on a day-to-day basis.

Premier is a six-bank concern serving Lake and northern Cook counties with 16 offices.

The Michigan institution is First of America Bank Corp. of Kalamazoo which now has more than $7.4 billion in assets and is providing financial services to 183 communities through 45 banks and a total of 347 offices in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois.

Premier includes Libertyville National Bank with four offices; Golf Mill State Bank of Niles with two offices; Grayslake National Bank with four offices; First National Bank of Mundelein with two offices; Premier Bank of Vernon Hills with two offices, and the Zion State Bank and Trust Co. with two offices.

Larry L. McGregor, chairman of Premier Bank-corporation Inc., headquartered in Libertyville, stated:

"Our directors and management team are particularly pleased with the First of America affiliation because of the similarity in service philosophy the two bank groups share. The banks thrive on servicing well the customers in their local communities."

First of American is paying Premier shareholders the equivalent of $190 per share in Series F nine percent Convertible Preferred stock or cash (up to a maximum of 49 percent). The merger involves a total price of $76 million for the 400,000 outstanding shares of Premier common stock.

CLC Offers Course For Entrepreneurs

Interested in starting your own business? The Lake County Small Business Development Program can help you make your move with a new program called "Starting a New Business." The program, created by the College of Lake County and the Lake County Economic Development Commission, is designed to give potential business owners essential management skills.

Courses in the "Starting a New Business" program (CON-101-011) will be held Jan. 20, 22, 27 and 29 on CLC's Grayslake campus. Among the issues to be examined in the program are: what it's like to be a business owner; how to acquire resources; organization, operation and legal responsibility; selling an idea to investors and lenders and surviving a business start-up. The program will also help you determine start-up costs and design your business plan.

No grades, transcripts or tests are required for admission to the program. The course fee is $55. Call (312)360-6350 or (312)223-3615 for registration and information.

Complete Negotiations

J.C. Forney and Co., commercial and industrial real estate specialists in Lake County, completed negotiations for the sale of 1.49 acres of prime land in Libertyville. The purchaser was Francis Carr Enterprises, and the seller was American Security Federal Savings Loan Assn. The parcel is adjacent to the Greentree Shopping Plaza on Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville. Plans are being drawn for an expansion of the plaza to include this newly acquired site. Nearly 20,000 square feet of retail and office space is planned for the addition. The seller was represented by Jack Forney and Jim Page; and the purchaser, by Francis Carr. The property was listed for $265,000.

Carmel Faces Key Stretch With Pair Of Home Games

The future is this weekend for the Carmel High School boys basketball team.

"It's time for this team to put up or shut up," coach Frank Belmont said.

The Corsairs, who split two games last weekend, have home cooking in their favor this time around. Carmel hosts Holy Cross Jan. 16 and Hersey Jan. 17.

"We have a chance to put a real nice string together going into the second half of the season," Belmont said.

Belmont said his team is ready for such an assignment after beating Notre Dame 70-55 but losing to Weber 62-51 and St. Joseph 69-57 last week.

The game against Holy Cross is a key one for Carmel. The Corsairs enter the game 4-2 in the East Suburban Catholic Conference, just ahead of Holy Cross in third place.

"For league standings, this will be a big one," Belmont said.

Belmont said he is pleased with his team's improvement in the team leadership area. The Corsairs came into the season with Rob Graham as their top returning player from last year's squad in terms of playing time. Dan Halverson, who also saw playing time last year, is out for the season because of a knee injury.

"In high school basketball, it's really a guard's game. We really had untested people at the perimeter but now we're starting to get effective guard play," Belmont said.

The Corsairs jumped off to a 23-8 lead against Notre Dame and never looked back. By halftime, Carmel led 48-19.

Scott Stahoviak led the winners with 21 points. John Welling had 15. Eleven CHS players reched the scoring column.

While the fast start was the key against Notre Dame, it was Carmel's undoing a night later at Weber.

Carmel fell behind 29-11 and although the Corsairs played well in the middle of the game, the deficit was too much to overcome.

"We got down early, but Welling was out because of fouls and Rob Graham was on the bench because of an injury. For the next three quarters, we played some of our better basketball of the season," Belmont said.

The Corsairs trimmed Weber's margin to four points before running out of gas in the final quarter.

Earlier in the week, Carmel went up against ESCC leader St. Joseph.

The Corsairs kept the pace to their liking early. But the team's old hangup, turnovers, kept them from

Missed free throws early did not help the cause, either.

Belmont said the key was staying close.

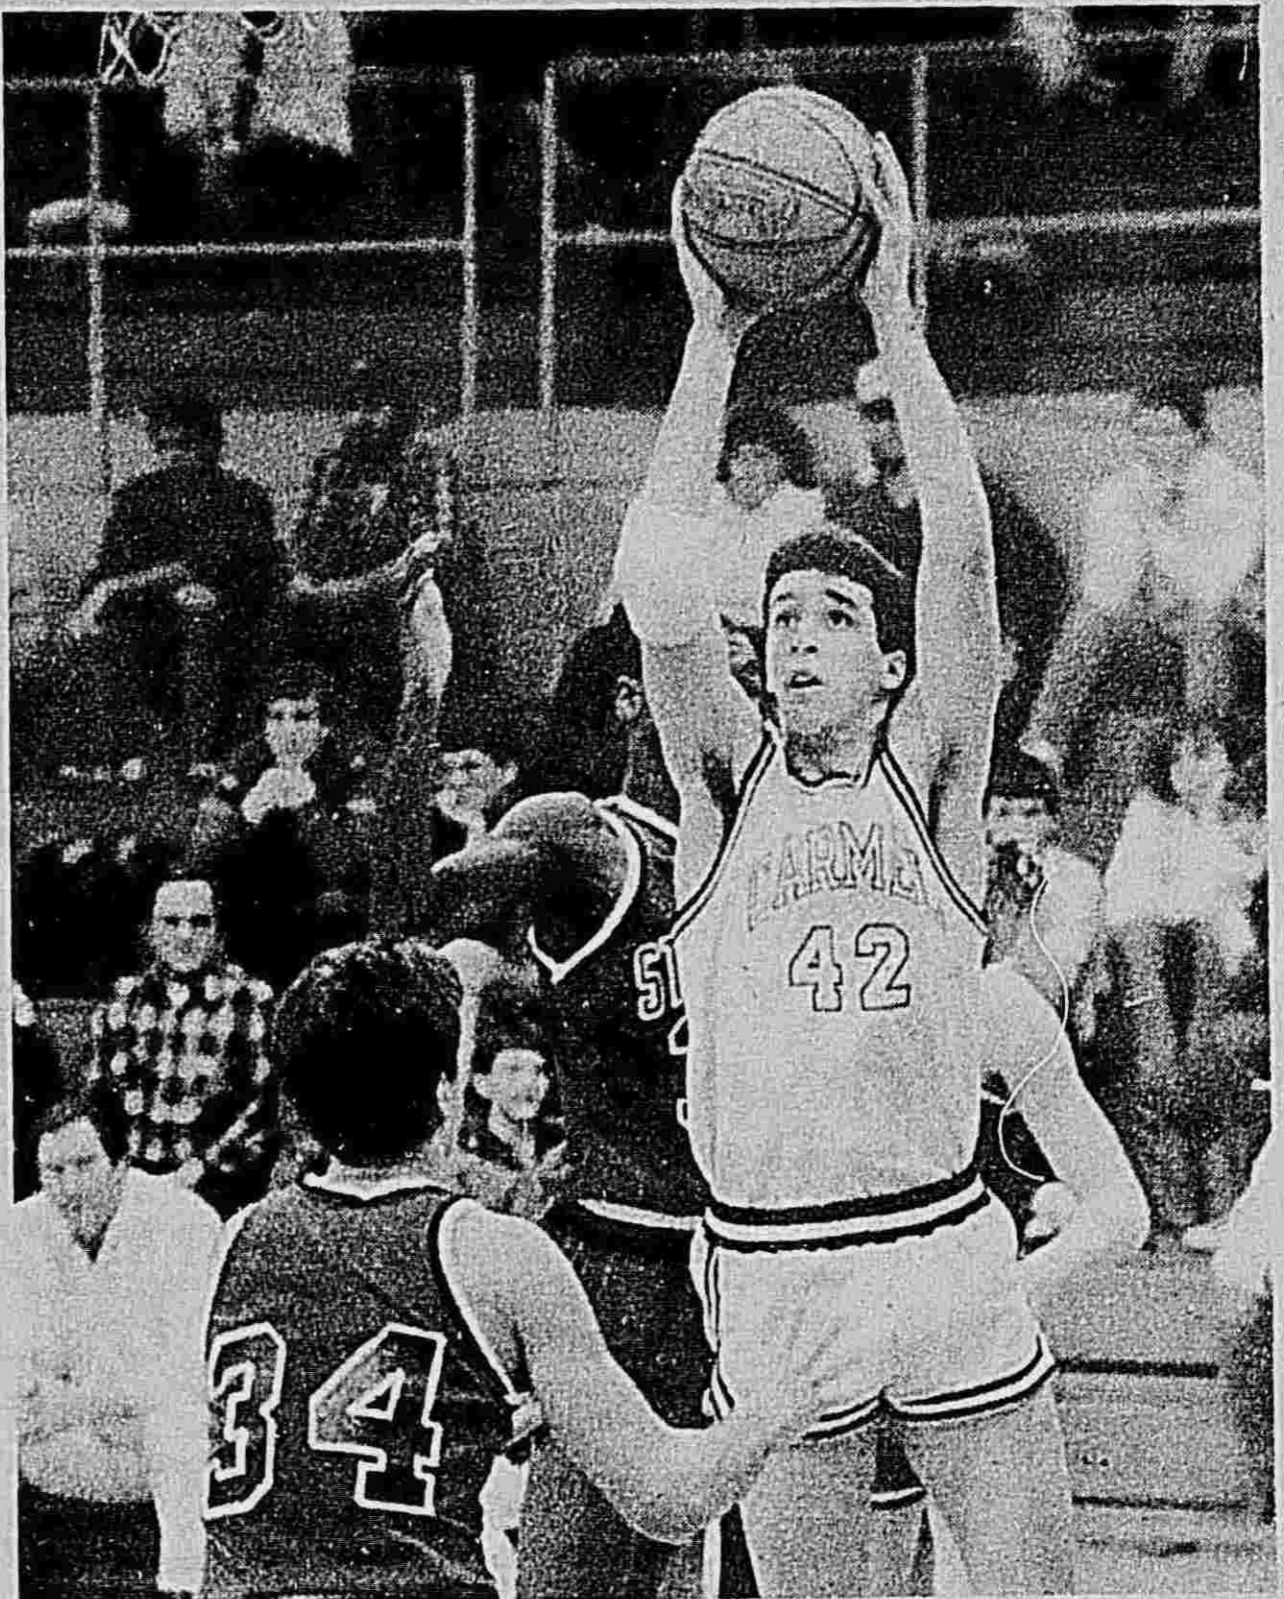

"You have to stay within three or four points. You're not going to get a run on that team. Sit there and you have a chance to pull it out at the end. We just did not quite stay close to them," Belmont said.

The Cardinals opened up a six-point lead midway through the second quarter, but three John Welling hoops closed the gap and Carmel trailed just 26-24 at halftime.

St. Josephs, behind Clifford Scales, who is headed to Nebraska, opened up a wider margin in the third quarter. Scales scored eight points in the third period and 17 for the second half en route to a 27 point outing. A hoop by Scales put the visitors ahead by 11 with just over a minute left in the third quarter.

Scales was complimented in the offense by 16 points from Brian Molis, another player headed to a Division I school.

Graham, who had an off-night at the free-throw line, missing four of six, tallied 16 points to lead Carmel. Welling had 13 and Stahoviak 12.

Lewistown Likes Just What He Sees In Skyhawks' Future

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

A quick glance at the Johnsbury High School basketball schedule shows that there are 11 regular-season games left.

And as far as first-year coach Jeff Lewistown is concerned, that is more than enough time to make so waves in and out of the Northwest Suburban Conference.

"We'd hope we would be a little better. We have had a lot of injuries but now the kids are starting to get to know one another a bit now. I think people will see some exciting, hustling basketball," the Skyhawks' mentor said.

Johnsbury, which plays at Round Lake Jan. 16, was just coming off a 52-50 heart-breaking loss to Jacobs when Lewistown emphasized the positive. The night before, Johnsbury dropped a 59-38 decision to NWSC powerhouse Marengo. The Skyhawks are now 2-2 in the NWSC, 5-7 overall.

"It was kind of a bit-tersweet loss. You hate to lose one like that when you come so close, but I saw so many good, positive things out there. The kids played with intensity despite being outsize," Lewistown said.

Lewistown had particular praise for forward Jeff Diedrich. Diedrich scored 16 points to lead the home team, despite giving away several inches to Jacobs' Rich Rogala. Guard Chris Bonus, while not scoring any points, also earned plaudits.

"I haven't seen a kid go up for as long and as hard as Jeff did," Lewistown said of Diedrich.

On Bonus: "Chris didn't score any points but he did not have any turnovers, either. He played a flawless game," Lewistown said.

But in the end, poor free-throw shooting early (Johnsbury missed seven of its first eight, making six of 14 for the game) and too much Ragala was the difference. Ragala scored 20 points - the next highest Eagle scorer was Craig Wojas with 10.

Johnsbury rallied from a seven-point deficit to cut Jacobs' lead to one, 37-36, entering the fourth quarter. Hoops by Ron Sztat, who had 13 points, Ed Nichols and Frank Husak trimmed the lead.

Jacobs scored the first two baskets of the fourth quar-

Johnsbury earned brief leads, first at 45-43 then at 48-47 on another clutch Diedrich hoop with 2:25 left.

A charge against Jacobs gave Johnsbury the ball at the 48 second mark, but the hosts turned it over at :24.

Jacobs then won the game on a baseline jumper by Wojas.

"The shot that was taken did not surprise me, but I was surprised by who took it," Lewistown said.

Johnsbury hopes the next 11 games will bring some surprises for Skyhawks' opponents.

Bowlers Struggle

The 1986-87 Rams' bowling season will not be a banner year.

"This is a rebuilding year," the Grayslake coach said as his team prepared for the Jan. 17 Round Lake Invitational.

And the team's latest results show that to be the case. Last week Grayslake lost a dual to Round Lake 2,338-1,964. The Rams also finished 14th of 16th at the Jacobs Invitational.

One bright spot for Grayslake in both meets was senior Kathy Paulsen. Paulsen finished 22nd at Jacobs, earning a trophy. She also was Grayslake's top bowler against Round Lake with a 485 series.

Watt said Paulsen is his team's hopes to qualify out of sectionals.

"She's starting to come on real strong. She has an outside chance to get out of sectionals," Watt said.

Panthers To Return Home

Round Lake's boys basketball team will have an opportunity to do something they haven't done in 1987 on Jan. 16.

That's when the Panthers return to their home court to host Johnsbury in a 7:30 p.m. Northwest Suburban Conference game. The contest will be the first game played in Panther territory since Dec. 5.

"It will be good to play a home game," Round Lake coach Bob Ward said.

The Panthers, despite a better than .500 8-5 overall record, won their first league game with a 61-33 thrashing of Wauconda.

The Panthers jumped off to a 16-6 lead after eight minutes and were ahead 34-14 by halftime.

"We executed well and did not turn the ball over very much," Ward said.

The visitors also had a huge advantage in rebounding as Round Lake had 34 to Wauconda's 20.

Jim Bills led Round Lake with 23 points and junior guard Frank Russell had 11.

As for the Johnsbury contest, Round Lake will be facing a team coming off a tough non-conference loss to Jacobs.

"They have two starters back from last year in Frank Husak and Ron Sztat. Sztat gave us trouble in side last year," Ward said.

"We've put two good games together in a row now," Ward said.

Elsewhere in the NWSC, something will have to give when Wauconda and Marian Central meet at Woodstock Jan. 16. Both teams are winless in the NWSC, and have a 2-16 record between them.

Women Notch Third Straight, CLC Men Aim To Rebound

The College of Lake County's mens and womens basketball teams appear to be heading in different directions midway through this 1986-87 season.

After losing their first five games, the Lady Lancers won their third in a row last week, posting a convincing 47-36 win over visiting Waubensee in the Lancers' conference opener.

Lake County seemed to be in control the entire game, jumping out to a 28-21 halftime lead which they would never relinquish.

"We changed our defense at halftime, which helped us preserve the win. Overall, we played a pretty respectable game," head coach Chuck Schramm said.

Individually for Lake County, Kelly Halkyard, making a strong comeback following an ankle injury, led the way with 13 points. Karen Hermann added nine, while Wendy Christina and Chris Ewert each tallied eight.

With the win, CLC upped its record to 3-5 overall, 1-0 in the Skyway Conference. The Lancers travel to Crystal Lake to face McHenry Jan. 15 and Highland Jan. 17.

On the opposite side of the coin, it's been a roller coaster year so far for the mens basketball team. Despite an exciting and tense game throughout, Lake County dropped its third in a row, losing 84-79 in overtime to Waubensee.

The Lancers have suffered a few tough losses this year, but as coach Bruce Smith said, "this one was our toughest all year."

CLC apparently seemed in control, holding a 39-35 lead at halftime. Late in the game, however, Lake County continued to cling to a four-point lead when the delay game was called upon. The result was two Waubensee steals converted into baskets and the game was tied 74-74.

"We just had poor execution of our delay game. We haven't used it much this year," Smith said.

In the OT, Lake County collapsed. Waubensee's Chiefs, (8-8), scored the first six points and proceeded to outscore CLC 10-5 and notch the victory.

All five CLC starters scored in double figures. Leading the way was Terry Wright with 22 points. David Tucker pumped in 19, Dave Sitz 15, Mark Kohl 12 and Todd Gordon 11. CLC had several sharp plays offensively, including back-door passes and inside penetration throughout the game.

CLC tangles with McHenry Jan. 15 and travels to Wright Jan. 20.

Fans wishing to attend the Jan. 16 basketball game between Warren and Lake Forest should be advised not to go the Gurnee campus.

The contest will be the first varsity game played by Warren at the College of Lake County. Game times are 6 p.m. for the sophomore game and 7:30 p.m. for the varsity contest.

CLC Athletic Director Frank Minnerly said 800 seats will be provided.

Showdown Pits Grant, Lake Zurich In Contest

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

It's showdown time in the Northwest Suburban Conference basketball race.

Lake Zurich and Grant, both with perfect 4-0 league records, clash at Grant High School Jan. 16 in a battle for control of first place. The winner gets a game lead while the loser will be playing catch-up the rest of the conference season.

"It will be one of our biggest games of the year," Grant coach Tom Maple said.

Fortunately for the Bulldogs, they will be coming into the key contest off a tight 54-47 win over Grayslake and a 53-48 non-conference win over Crystal Lake Central. The victories give Grant a 12-2 overall record.

The Lake Zurich versus Grant matchups promises to be decided by which team's big players dominate. Lake Zurich has 6' 6" senior forward Tom Jesse and 6' 6" forward Dave Hempling. Grant counters with 6' 6" Don Kiegan and 6' 1" Ron Richford in the middle.

Maple said the Bears also have depth on their side.

"They have eight or nine players they can go to," he said.

Richford led the Grant attack in both wins last week.

Against Grayslake, the Bulldogs needed every one of Richford's 25 points to turn back a scrappy Rams team.

"I was not happy with the way we played offensively but you have to give Grayslake credit. They threw a matchup zone against us that we were not prepared for," Maple said.

For Grayslake coach Greg Groth, whose forces play Marengo Jan. 16, the loss dropped his team to 4-7 overall, 1-3 in league play.

"We worked real well defensively on the weak side and we talked a lot," Groth said.

Grayslake, despite a size disadvantage, played aggressively but Grant came down with the clutch rebounds.

"They had the big rebounds when it counted," Groth said.

Grant took a three-point lead into the fourth quarter and increased it to five when Richford hit a shot with 4:26 left. Two Richford free throws gave the visitors another five-point cushion with just 2:31 left.

Grayslake rallied, cutting the lead to one on a hoop by Andrew Flood and another by Butch LeNoir to make it 44-43.

Grant then made nine of 11 free throws in the final 90 seconds to secure the win.

Flood, playing on a sprained ankle, led Grayslake with 15 points while LeNoir had 10.

Maple said his team's win over Crystal Lake Central should give it "credibility to go with 12-2".

The Tigers featured star forward Bill Heppner, who is headed to DePaul next year.

Grant opened strong in this non-league affair, leading 12-10 after eight minutes and using a 16-7 second-quarter edge for a 28-17 halftime lead.

"We were ahead by 11 and that allowed us to overcome a bad third quarter," Maple said.

Central rallied to dominate the third period 19-7 and took a 37-36 lead entering the final quarter.

But the Bulldogs had the Tigers' number, winning the final period 18-12 to post a 53-48 win.

Elsewhere in the NWSC, Round Lake hosts Johnsonburg, Marian Central battles Wauconda. The Panthers will be looking for another win to keep their momentum. Marian Central and Wauconda have both struggled this year.

LEGAL—

Notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held at 7:35 P.M. on Tuesday, February 3, 1987 in the Council Chambers of the Village Hall, 164 Hawley Street, Grayslake, Illinois by the Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Grayslake for the purpose of considering the following amendments:

1. CENTRAL BUSINESS A

Central Business A (CBA): This business zone is established to provide pedestrian-oriented areas for commercial establishments which offer a wide range of goods and services with required off street parking.

2. Remove the "x" notation from Two-Family Dwelling in the R3A Zone, Section 202, Table 1, "Principle Uses Permitted in Zones", page 16.

3. Minimum Lot Width
Change the Entry in Section 203, Table 2, "Lot Area, Yard and Bulk Regulations", page 18, for R3A and R3 Zones under Lot size, Width, for single family dwellings from 70 to 60 respectively to 70 and 60.

4. Residential 3 (R3)
Change the following in Section 203, Table 2, "Lot Area, Yard and Bulk Regulations", Page 18, change Total Side Yard from 18 to 12 feet.

5. General Business Zone (GB)
Add the following in Section 203, Table 2, Lot Area, Yard, and Bulk Regulations, Page 21 to Increase General Business Structure coverage from 25 to 30%.

6. Amend the following to Section 203, Table 2, Lot Area, Yard and Bulk Regulations, Page 21, under General Business.

7. Drop Footnote 6 in Section 203, Footnotes to Table 2, Page 22. Renumber 7 to 6.

8. Section 209-"Miscellaneous Requirements" Page 41.

A. All permanent buildings and structures intended for human occupancy shall be connected to central sewage treatment and water supply utility systems, except single family dwellings may have private water wells and septic fields, provided the following requirements are met.

Amend to Read As Follows:

1. A community sanitary sewer main or water main is not available within 250 feet of any boundary line of lot.

9. Change Section 209 S 3; page 41.

3. Connection to a community sewer line shall be made within one year from time that they become available.

Amend to Read As Follows:

3. Connection to a community sewer main or water main shall be made within one year from time that they become available.

10. Add the Following to Section 209 H, Other Uses and Regulations, Page 44.

10. Accessory Structures: No accessory structure shall be placed closer than five (5) feet to any property line.

11. Change Section 401 2 B, "Side Yards", page 59.

b. Side Yards: Each side yard required for a non-conforming recorded lot shall be determined by multiplying the actual width of the lot by the yard required in the zone in which the lot is located, divided by the minimum lot width required in the zone in which the lot is located. However, nonconforming side yard shall be less than five (5) feet.

Amend to Read As Follows:

b. Side Yards: Each Side Yard required for a non-conforming recorded lot shall be determined by multiplying the actual width of the lot by the yard required in the zone in which the lot is located, divided by the minimum lot width required in the zone in which the lot is located. However, nonconforming side yards shall not be less than five (5) feet.

12. Change Section 505 B3 "Standards for Variations", page 5.

d. That the aforesaid circumstances or conditions are such that the strict application of the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance would deprive the applicant of any reasonable use of his land. Mere loss in value shall not justify a variation; there must be a deprivation of beneficial use of land.

Amend to Read As Follows:

d. That the aforesaid circumstances or conditions are such that the strict application of the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance would result in a practical difficulty or a particular hardship to the owner, as distinguished from a mere inconvenience.

Lumber, Ring Say No To County Supporters

(Political Columnist)

Last December, Lake County Board Chairman Jim LaBelle was reelected to a second two-year term. Bob Neal's regular Republicans supported LaBelle's reelection over the opposition of Norm Geary's independent Republicans and John Balen's Democrats. LaBelle then appointed regular Republicans to the major committee chairmanships.

The independent Republicans are attempting to recruit candidates to oppose party regulars in the 1988 GOP primary.

Two vulnerable incumbents are Dist. 4 representatives, Jim Fields of Antioch and Fred Popp of Lake Villa. Both Fields and Popp are regular Republicans, who will be seeking reelection in the 1988 March primary. County Board Dist. 4 includes Antioch, Avon, Lake Villa, and Grant Twp.s in western Lake County. It is a solid Republican area with a bounty on Democrats. The GOP primary is tantamount to the election.

Lakeland Newspapers has learned that independent Republicans are encouraging Barbara Lumber of Round Lake and Antioch Highway Commissioner Mark Ring to oppose Popp and Fields in next year's primary election. Mrs. Lumber, the wife of a prominent Antioch attorney, was an unsuccessful Democratic county board candidate in the 1984 elections. She was narrowly defeated by Fred Popp in a three-way race. Two years ago, Mark Ring fielded an independent candidacy against the Jim Fields organization for Antioch Twp. highway commissioner. The 29-year-old Ring easily defeated David Heath, a Fields appointee, for the office.

Lakeland contacted both

Barbara Lumber and Mark Ring regarding their potential candidacies for the county board in next year's elections. Mrs. Lumber ruled out any county board candidacy on the Republican ticket because of her commitment to the Democratic party and its philosophy. "It would go against my grain," Lumber stated.

Mark Ring asserted that he had no interest in running for the county board. Ring maintained, "Two years ago, I was elected to serve a four-year term as highway commissioner. I would be betraying the public trust if I fielded a candidacy for the county board. I wasn't elected highway commissioner in order to advance my political aspirations. The voters selected me for this office because they believed that I was the most qualified person to administer the township highway department. I intend to fulfill these public expectations, and seek reelection in 1989."

Ring concluded, "I will never run for the county board. I'm privileged to serve in the best public office in Lake County: Antioch Twp. Highway Commissioner. I hope people understand that I don't have any political aspirations beyond my present position. I'm reminded of what Civil War Gen. William T. Sherman said when he was asked to run for president following the war between the states. Gen. Sherman stated, 'If nominated, I will not run. If elected, I will not serve.' This statement summarizes my attitude toward the county board."

Dada Praises Assistance In Blaze At Rustic Manor

Gurnee Fire Chief Sam Dada is praising the efforts of 18 Lake County fire departments which assisted the village in the Jan. 9 Rustic Manor fire.

"There is no way a small town like ours could have fought that big a fire. They gave us excellent assistance. The firefighters that responded were good, aggressive firefighters. No one was standing around," he said.

Dada estimated that 115

firemen were on the scene at the fire. Grand Ave. was closed off to traffic.

Those sending assistance to Gurnee were: Wauconda, North Chicago, Vernon Hills, Antioch, Round Lake, Lake Villa, Waukegan, Grayslake, Bonnie Brook, Lake Bluff, Mundelein, Countryside, Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Highwood, Deerfield, Libertyville and Lake Forest.

Investigators, meanwhile, are beginning their efforts into the cause of the blaze. No cause has been determined.

No damage estimate has been arrived at, either, Dada said.

He added that fire marshals are working with Gurnee to help find a cause.

Owners remain hopeful that the fire will not crush hopes for reopening the historic restaurant.

"We're hopeful; we can't give up," Lee Trybom, wife of owner Marv Trybom, said.

Wilderness Outpost

John Gans, Alaska Division Director of the National Outdoor Leadership School will be the senior instructor for a special program on outdoor backpacking. The program will be held at Ryerson Woods on Saturday, Feb. 12.

Weather Top Subject Of Tall-Tale Tellers

A gentleman from Missouri has been judged the top tale-teller of 1986 by the nationally-known Burlington Liars Club of Burlington, Wis.

The club has been naming top liars for 50 years and this year received entries from over a dozen foreign countries and 23 states. The state of the weather seemed to be the tall-tale tellers' favorite subject.

Winning over 305 competitors, Charles Klott of Herman, Mo. had a story that talked about the historic Biblical floods.

Klott claims, "A man bought land in a distant state and when he went to visit his holdings he found it quite dry. He stopped at an elderly neighbor's and asked whether it ever rained in those parts."

The neighbor replied, "Sometimes."

Months later the man returned to see his land again and found it even drier than before. He asked his neighbor again if it ever rained there.

The old neighbor answered, "Well, you've read in the Bible about 40 days and 40 nights of rain. Well, we got a quarter-inch."

James Belch, Hope Mills, N. C., said that "It rained so hard yesterday water was backed-up against my bared-wire fence."

Last year's champion liar, Mary Marie Weatherly, Oklahoma City, Okla., won an honorable mention by saying that "My sister painted a bowl of apples that looked so real that the frame she used got worm holes in it."

A local liar, Jack Sorenson, Kenosha, wrote, "It was so cold last December that, when we heard a loud pop outside our front door and went out to see what it was, we found pieces of glass from our porch light and among the pieces were tiny specs. We counted them and sure enough there were 60 of them; all 60 watts of the frozen light bulb were frozen alive."

The only profession excluded from the annual tale-telling competition are politicians, "because they're professionals."

Landfill Opponents Picking Up Steam

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

Opposition to the proposed landfills in central Lake County is picking up steam. Elia and Fremont Twps. voted Monday night to oppose the applications by Waste Management to build a landfill and incinerator at Peterson Rd. and Rte. 83 south of Grayslake and by ARF Landfill Corp. to expand the capacity of its existing landfill by 105 acres, also just south of Grayslake. The Villages of Mundelein and Third Lake had previously stated their formal opposition to the proposals.

The actions follow formal action by the Lake County Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency to oppose the proposals after its engineering firm reported on inadequacies in the petitions.

The planning agency established six criteria upon which to make a recommendation on the landfills. The criteria are:

-necessity of the facility to accommodate the waste needs of the area it serves.

-that design, location and methods of operation will ensure the protection of public health, safety and welfare.

-that the facility will conform to the character of the surrounding areas with a minimal impact on property values.

-that the facility is sited outside the boundaries of the 100-year flood plain or be flood-proofed in accordance with Illinois Dept. of Transportation standards.

-that it have minimal impact on existing traffic patterns.

The engineering study was conducted by Graef, Anhalt, and Schloemer Assoc., Inc.

of Milwaukee. The firm reported that both applications were inadequate, based on these criteria.

The report said that ARF's proposal was very inadequate in its plans for the transmission of contaminants and leachates from the site via collection pipes. Seeking 99 percent efficiency, the engineers graded the ARF proposal at 12 percent efficiency.

The firm gave Waste Management a much higher rating - 97 percent efficiency, but said that plans for an incinerator by Waste Management were incomplete and without sufficient data upon which to base a conclusion.

Al Stob, director of facilities development and community relations for Waste Management said, "We're glad to see that communities are actively looking into this. We will submit detailed information and testimony supporting our application at the hearing."

Stob suggested that people attend the formal hearings because the testimony "will answer most of the questions that people have."

He also pointed out that all formal testimony at the hearing becomes part of the formal record.

Many of the local governmental bodies were waiting for the waste planning agency to take formal action before making their own decisions.

Although, at press time, the Village of Third Lake had not taken a formal vote to oppose the landfills, it did vote to give $2,000 to Citizens of Lake County for Environmental Action Reform (CLEAR), a citizens group which is opposing the landfills.

Other communities that are reported to be considering a formal vote in opposition to the proposals are Round Lake Park, Libertyville and Grayslake.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Well, the season's first real snow is finally here.

I had the most wonderful chat with two gals over at the P.M. and L. Theatre the other day. The renovation to the building is going nicely; it's all been structural work until now, making the building safer. They have really worked hard to get that building in shape.

Don't miss P.M. and L's opening of Angel Street on Feb. 6.

I would like to share a note that one of my readers sent after reading last week's column.

Dear Annie Mae,

I just want to point out that if you had been on the Channel Lake, you would have noticed that the noisy snowmobiles were involved in races sponsored by a local resort. This is something that we residents get to hear every Sunday.

The people out riding just for pleasure are no more annoying the boaters in the summer. Also, the ice fishermen are not entirely without fault. Every Spring when the ice melts we are the reluctant recipients of all their garbage (i.e., cans, lines, hooks, old pails, and assorted styrofoam containers) which is blown onto our shore.

P.S. Take a look at the ice after the ice fishing derby; you could fill a garbage truck with what is left behind. A Channel Lake Resident

If this is the case, and trash is being left on the ice, then the people that are doing it should be ashamed of themselves.

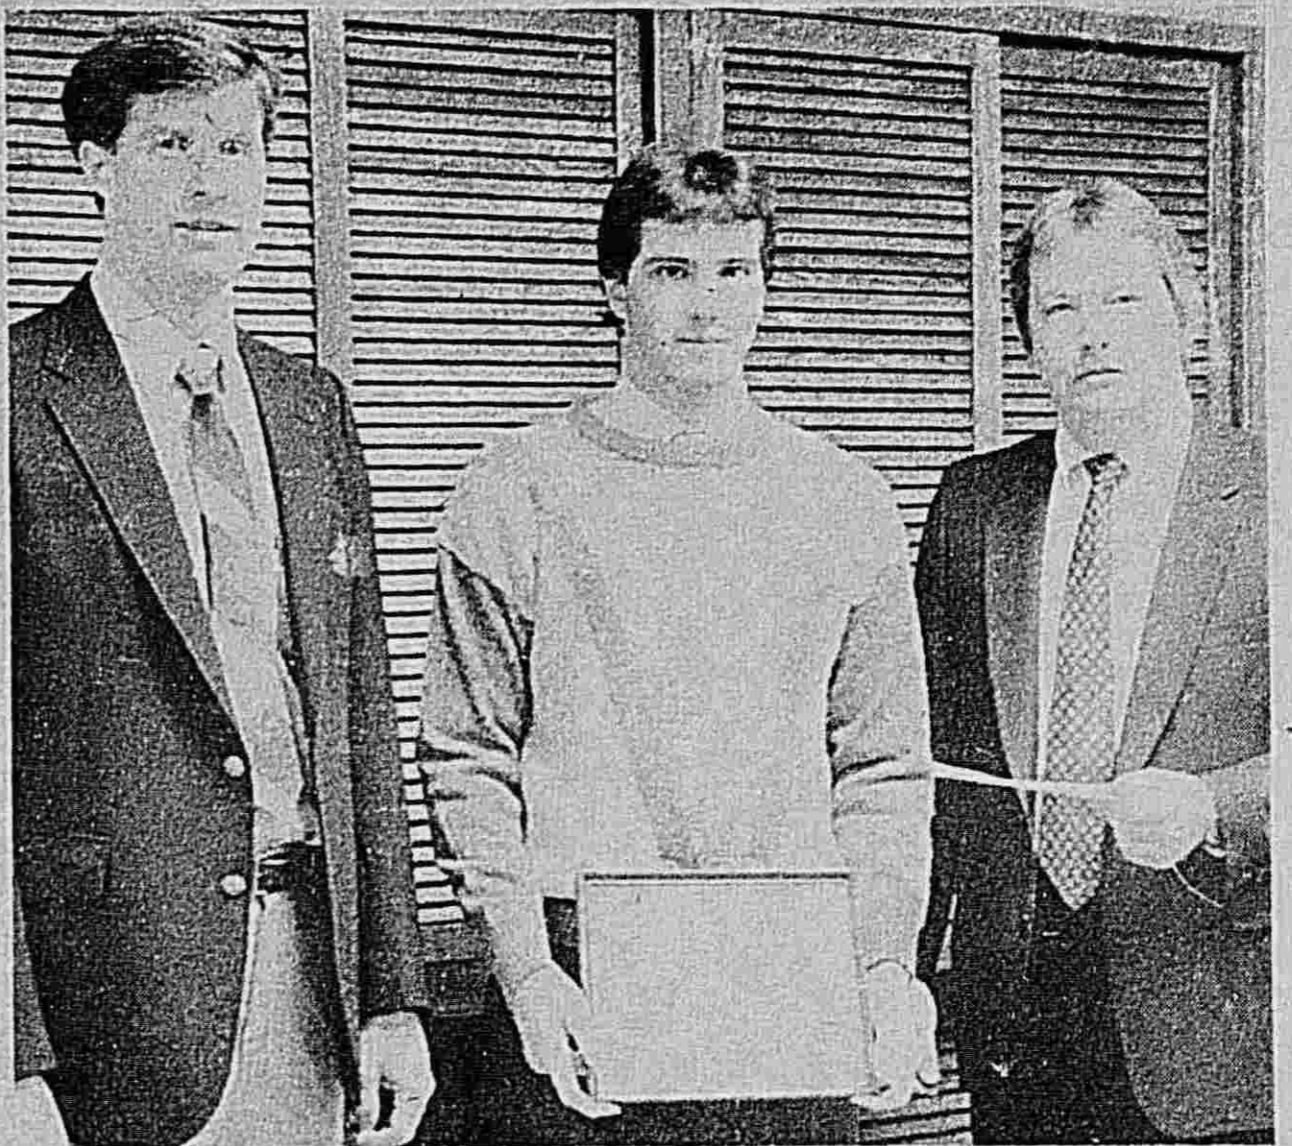

Did anyone notice the young ladies and gentlemen with movie cameras equipment down by the sawmill on Sunday?

The aspiring movie makers were from California's Loyola-Marymount college and they were working on a project for their master's degree program.

One young man, who was obviously freezing, told me that he had never seen snow other than at a ski resort. Three of the student's were from California and two were from North Dakota.

Congratulations to Don Skidmore, new president of the Lions Club. As this will be the Lions 50th anniversary year, we can look forward to a lot of exciting programs from them.

Annie Mae is interested in obtaining any old written memorabilia having to do with the Antioch Lions, please send photo copies of anything you might have.

Athlete Of The Week

Antioch Basketball player, Tom Wells has been selected as the "Athlete of the Week" for his performance in six games over the Christmas holidays. Glenn Hendrickson, representing the State Bank of Antioch, is shown with a check for $50 that is being contributed in Tom's name to the Antioch High School Parent Teacher Scholarship fund. Don Zeman, Varsity Basketball Coach, is also present.

Men With Sunglasses To Perform At School

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

There was a certain amount of smugness and a sense of retribution from Bear fans in Antioch this week as the Giants shut out the Redskins. Guess that's what they mean about the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat, folks. Ain't that too bad—aaah!

It sure was a pleasure to read and reread newcomer Edy Bein's "Letter to the Editor" in last week's issue praising our town. It's nice to see through someone else's eyes the things we take for granted. Sometimes during the hustle and bustle of life we forget that quite the same reasons led most of us to make and continue to call Antioch our home.

Mothers of small children, do you need a babysitter? Short on funds? Can you watch someone else's child in return? That's the mission of a local babysitting co-op, according to Peggy Castillo, a member of the group which has been in operation for three years. No fee is charged; members give equal time for that they use on an exchange system. Members are able even to hold part-time jobs. For more information you may call (312) 395-5923.

Don't forget the wonderful

"Ribs N'Bibs" dinner to benefit St. Peter's School athletic program to be held Saturday, Jan. 17 at St. Peter's Social Center. Serving time will be from 5 to 8 members and $4 for non-members at the door. Advance tickets are available at a reduced price.

Boy Scout Troop 190 will hold a fundraising pancake

p.m. Tickets are $6 for adults and $3 for children.

Antioch High School wrestlers continue to "journey to the tourney." Winning four of their last six meets, they will travel to meet Zion-Benton on Friday, Jan. 16 and will face Warren, Crystal Lake South, and Waukegan East at Warren on the 17th. Coming soon on Friday, Jan. 23 will be Parents' Night. The Pom Pon girls and the Men in Sunglasses will perform.

Also coming soon is the Active Adults of Tomorrow Video Lock-In. They will be locked-in (not out) at 7 p.m. at St. Peter's Social Center on Saturday, Jan. 24 and won't be able to leave until 7 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 25. Of course, that won't be a problem, because movies will be shown throughout the 12-hour period. For reservations call (312) 395-3236. Tickets will be available at the door. Cost is $3.50 for breakfast/lunch from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 25 at St. Peter's School. Tickets are $3 for adults, $2 for children and under four free.

Students Score High In Math League Contest

"Simultaneously, three satellites began to orbit the earth at constant speeds. When the first completed x orbits, it had made 80 more orbits than the second and 100 more than the third. When the second completed x orbits, it had made 25 more orbits than the third. Find x."

The Math Team students of Antioch High School had 30 minutes to answer this and five other questions during contest number three of the Illinois Math League.

Rick Ruck answered all six questions correctly and following closely behind with five correct were Jim McClure, John Fedor, Cindy Spronk and Jerry Ruscho. That gave a team score (the top five) of 26. In all, 29 students participated in the contest.

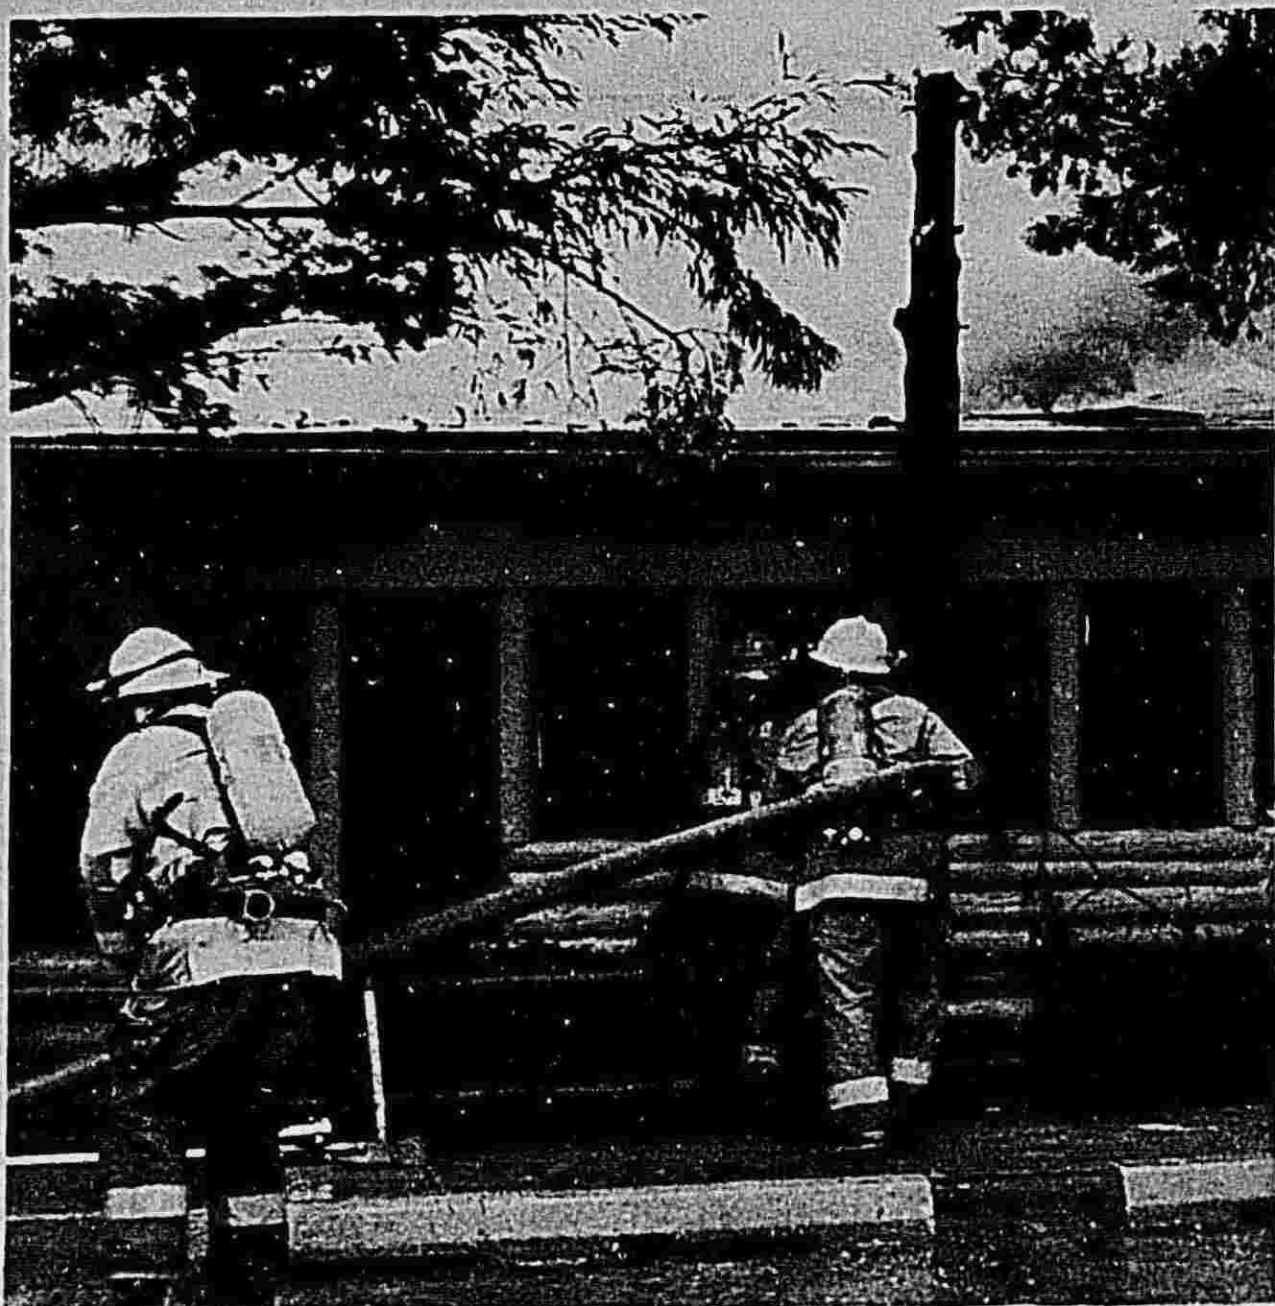

It has been three years since anyone at ACHS achieved a six on any of these contests, where sometimes to even answer one correctly is quite an accomplishment.

The Math Team also participates in the Atlantic-Pacific Math League contests and cohosts the Antioch-Warren Math Invitational competition coming up on Feb. 26, and competes in the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics (ICTM) sponsored contests.

By the way, the answer to the above problem is 400.

IRS To Hold Seminars On Withholding Change

J.R. Starkey, Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Dist. director for northern Illinois, informed employers that the IRS has scheduled eight seminars to familiarize them with the new 1987 Form W-4 filing requirements.

"Under the new Tax Reform Act of 1986, all employees will be required to complete a new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," he said. "These seminars have been arranged so that employers will be able to help their own employees prepare these forms accurately and completely."

Because of significant changes in the tax laws which became effective on Jan. 1, the amount of tax which is currently being withheld from most employees' salaries is not correct. Many wage earners will be receiving larger paychecks because of lower federal withholding tax rates. "Consequently," Starkey concluded, "we are advising individuals to file new Forms W-4 as soon as possible to avoid being substantially under-withheld later in the year."

The IRS estimates that about half of all employees will only need to complete the first five lines on the form. Others who have more complicated tax situations will be required to complete additional sections of the form.

These seminars will be held Jan. 21 and 22, at the Moody Church, 1609 N. LaSalle St., Chicago. There will be morning and afternoon seminars on Jan. 21 and a morning session on Jan. 22. Additional seminars will be conducted in the auditorium at the State of Illinois Building, 100 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Jan. 27 and 29, and Feb. 3, 10, and 12, from 10 a.m. until noon.

To register call the IRS at (800) 424-1040, weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. All seminars will be conducted by experienced IRS tax specialists.

Pro Athletes Begin To Flex Political Muscle

by JOHN STEINKE

There was a time when we would have laughed at the notion of an ex-athlete in government. Johnny (Blood) McNally, a Pro Football Hall of Fame halfback, was soundly defeated in a bid for county sheriff in his native Minnesota in the 1940s. "No one took me seriously," McNally said later. His platform promised a return to honest wrestling.

Steinke On Politics

On the basketball court, Big George Mikan was rated as "the greatest basketball player of the first half century" for his exploits as a member of the Minneapolis (now Los Angeles) Lakers. In 1956, Mikan ran as a Republican against incumbent Representative Roy Wier in Minnesota's Third Congressional Dist. Mikan rode around town on the back of a "youth truck" shooting baskets to attract the crowds. Wier commented on Mikan's candidacy: "I'd be as lost on the basketball court as Mikan would be in politics." The voters agreed and Mikan fouled out in the end, losing to Wier.

Another basketball player of lesser renown was Wallace ("Wah Wah") Jones, who ran for Congress on the Republican ticket against Democratic incumbent John Watts in Kentucky's 6th Dist. in 1956. Jones' chief qualification for office was being one of two honest members on the bribe-ridden 1948 Kentucky basketball team. Players Alex Groza, Dale Barnstable and Ralph Beard all admitted accepting bribes to shave points. Since most people think politics is a dirty business, Jones' incorruptible conduct on the basketball court seemed an attractive asset for a candidate. Watts won re-election because the basketball fans couldn't carry the day for Jones at the polls.

The advent of television, weakening party loyalties, independent voting patterns and the public adulation of athletes has transformed the jock bloc into viable political candidates. Lee Atwater, director of George

Bush's 1988 presidential campaign, admits: "Athletes might well be the new American heroes... who can transcend party loyalties."

Ray Didinger of The Sporting News writes: "We are capable of voting for images rather than issues, throwing our support behind candidates we like for reasons that have little or nothing to do with their politics. We have elected military heroes (Theodore Roosevelt and Dwight Eisenhower) and a movie star (Ronald Reagan) in this country. Why not an athlete? Think about it. What film role do we associate with Reagan? George Gipp, a football player. The ex-athlete has a natural rapport with TV audiences; the networks and advertisers realized that long ago. Today, jocks are all over the tube as play-by-play announcers, color analysts, commercial spokesmen and actors. It stands to reason that if these guys can sell beer and flowers, they can sell themselves in this age of electronic politics."

A Washington Weekly article contends: "Perhaps it's because professional sports are so much like big business, and that big business is so much like the media, and the media are so much like politics. But for whatever reason, the transition from locker room to Oval Office seems very reasonable these days. There was a time when political accomplishment brought fame. Now the process has been reversed."

Former LaSalle basketball great Tom Gola was elected to the Pennsylvania state legislature in 1966, and then won the race for Philadelphia city controller four years later. In 1983, Gola lost the Republican nomination for mayor of Philadelphia. He enunciated the basic tenet of a successful politician: "The name helps, no question about it. You'd be surprised how many (voters) step into the booth and don't know anything about the candidates. They look at the list and if they recognize your name—whether it's for sports or whatever—chances are they'll vote for you." Winning candidates realize that name recognition is 80 percent of a successful campaign. It's better to be roasted than ignored.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

Weekly Tip: Changes can be what you make them. Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Good news continues to come through from business associations. Expect an expansion of your current situation. Take time to relax.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) All work and no play can throw the Bull for a loop. Take time out to enjoy some special entertainment with loved ones. You'll feel fresher.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) It may be time for you to start projecting a new image. A new hairdo — a new wardrobe — perhaps even a career change. A friend has good advice.

Cancer (June 21-July 20) Personal problems on the job complicate matters. Ask for a private meeting to thrash out issues that cause flareups before they get too hot to handle.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) Numbers play a big role on the job. Figures don't lie. Act on what you learn as soon as you get all the needed facts. Fair, but firm produces results.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Some stormy emotional weather needs to be endured before things calm down and your prospects become sunnier. Friends rally to offer loving support.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct 22) As you move into a new business area, your social circle widens to include new friends. Old friends may feel left out. Reassure them.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) A relative or close friend may resent your well-meaning but misunderstood effort to make him reconsider a decision. Offer facts to back your position.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) A friendship could be changing into something you don't like. Don't be afraid to make your own needs known if a friend tries to be too intrusive.

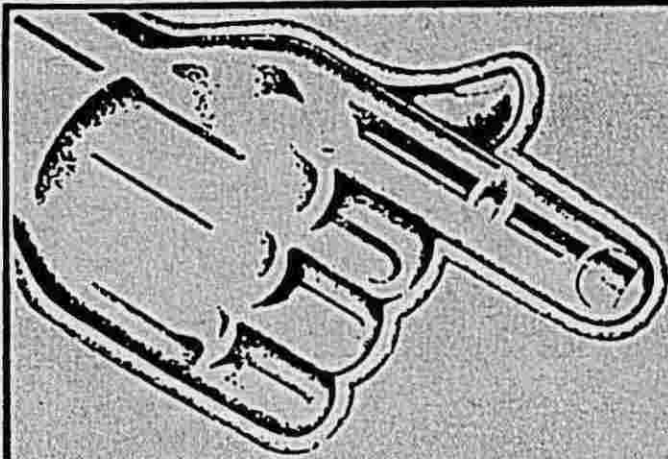

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Family members are heartened by the time you share with them. Discuss travel plans with them and ask for suggestions.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) There are too many influences around you. Be careful about making verbal commitments. Put things in writing to avoid misunderstandings.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Treading water in shallow depths may be safer — but it doesn't get you anywhere. Your aspects favor moving in for a closer look at an opportunity. © 1987, McNaught Synd.
